How About That Land? Orindans Asked for Ideas

What to do with the Orinda Association land? The 10 acres adjacent to the crossroads is intended for community use. Signs to stimulate public interest in the use of the land are being displayed by local merchants.

Letters went out yesterday to all Orinda residents inviting them to join the Orinda Association, according to Paul Fanning, 160 Hall Drive, chairman for the membership drive.

THE LETTER solicited support for the association which basically serves as the single governing body for "our unincorporated community." It was signed by Eric Nielsen, 224 Camino Sobrante, president.

The board of directors hopes to interest as many Orindans as possible in joining the group and participating in the association's annual meeting. It will be held April 23 in the Orinda School. All new and old members are invited.

Featured at the meeting will be a panel discussion on the best use of the association land. The property is near the southwest corner of the freeway, where it intersects San Pablo Dam Road.

BOARD MEMBER Harry Fledderman, corporation attorney, acting chairman of the permanent committee on the use of the land, will moderate the panel. Three other prominent Orindans will serve on the panel.

Ann (Mrs. Paul) Pollaczek, Orinda's "Man of the Year" in 1959, currently serving on the Orinda Beautification Committee, will be the only woman on the panel. James Rector Lucas, architect and past president of Orinda Rotary and Chamber of Commerce, will participate. Filling out the panel will be a longtime Orinda resident active in civic affairs, William Penn Mott, manager of the Eastbay Regional Park District.

Each panel member will talk about the use of the land as he sees it. After a brief interchange of ideas among panelists, the discussion will go to the floor.

Although the association has no real governmental powers, it has much to say about zoning matters and many other municipal affairs of Orinda. This is accomplished largely through direct contact of association committees with principals involved in a project.

THE PLANNING committee is headed by Richard Bartle, 238 Hall Drive. Chairman for the Civic Affairs committee is Charles Legge, 228 Longview Terrace. The newest board member, A. L. Peterson, 6 Sadrine Court, heads the tax study committee.

"Our community has undergone a tremendous growth," according to Neilsen. "There are now close to 5000 families comprising approximately 14,000 people within the Orinda Union School District which we serve."

Kennedy Talk Seen as Boost To Transit Plan

Driving to get the Bay Area Rapid Transit District $790 million bond issue put on the November ballot, officials backing the project were highly enthused yesterday over the tacit support given to it by President Kennedy's demand that the transportation problems of the nation be improved.

The President pulled no punches in asking a speed-up in the action and pointed to the transport stalemate currently facing commuters.

The district's directors,, at a recent meeting, voted to go ahead at full speed in the preparation of feasibility reports on the East Bay-San Francisco network despite the refusal of Marin County to withdraw.

The district hopes to put the three-county plan into the hands of the supervisors by June 1. It was said that Marin County must withdraw by August or rapid transit plans would collapse for perhaps two years.

Superintendent Fears State Code Action

By NORMAN COLBY

The Contra Costa Junior College District is in danger of losing some $1 million in state aid-to-education funds next school year if some of the courses relating to "American institutions and ideals" are not improved, according to Superintendent Drummond McCunn.

Specifically, McCunn referred to several books which are included in United States history and government courses, and which, he said, are violating the terms of the state education code.

"About $1 million of state aid is in jeopardy because we are not meeting the requirements of the code. The state can withhold this money. The district is receiving about $800,000 in state aid this year," said McCunn

"I HAVE received an informal opinion from a proper source in this matter," he said.

The college district board recently approved a review of textbooks, as requested by McCunn, and the results of the re-examination will be known by June 30 or soon afterwards.

Referring to the education code, McCunn said. "They can fire the superintendent, the college directors and the teachers, too, if it is determined the state education code is being violated."

McCunn referred to the inclusion as required reading in U.S. history and government classes several "novels" and other reading matter which he does not consider textbooks, that is, the type of basic reading needed as a foundation for a particular course.

He emphasized that such books although they are not textbooks by his definition, are still important to the education process as "reference" books, available to the students in U.S. history and government courses, but not required to be read by them.

BUT WHILE they are required reading in government and history courses, they violate the state education code, he said, quoting two sections as follows:

" . . . In all public and private schools located within the state, there shall be given regular courses of instruction on the Constitution of the United States and in American history, including the study of American institutions and ideals, and the principles of state and local government established under the constitution of this state . . . ," says the code.

" . . . willful neglect or failure of any superintendent, principal or college director to observe or carry out the requirements of

Aid Discovery

S. Groeenings and J.J Holst, both Orinda scientists, were instrumental in a discovery used to analyze chemical compounds in oil refinery platformer feed products. The announcement was made by Dr. A. G. Polgar, a chemist from Shell Development Company's Emeryville research center at a national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

The tube of glass used for the analysis is barely a hundredth of an inch in diameter and as long as a football field. The inside of it has a special coating about one thousandths of an inch thick.

Tells Park Cost

Two and a half million dollars, half of the total amount of money proposed for the purchase of land to create Contra Costa County's expanded park system, may be paid for public property already held by the East Bay Municipal Utility District, it was disclosed yesterday.

Duane Mattison, park director for the county, revealed that such a figure had been established for the EBMUD holdings in the planning activities of the county. He said the amount was projected on the basis of current land prices in the areas affected.

"I believe we can acquire these parcels of land at a figure below the $2.5 million amount," Mattison asserted, adding: "East Bay MUD has always been cooperative on such programs."

A CITIZENS Committee of 500 for Parks is currently pushing for voter endorsement of a $7.5 million bond proposal at the June 5 primary election. Two-thirds of the amount would be spent for land, the other third for development and improvements.

The park director mentioned several well-known pieces of property which the county hopes to acquire, including a stretch of undeveloped beach land in the Pt. Pinole region. The property adjacent to the San Pablo reservoir is also being sought.

Acalanes Board Tables 'Plan F', OK Personally

Although members individually spoke out in its favor, the Acalanes Union High School District trustees Wednesday night deferred any action on "Plan F" for unification of the elementary and high school districts into two separate school systems.

Board members individually reiterated their view that total unification in their estimate "still represents the best approach if unification itself is necessary."

Under "Plan F" Orinda, Canyon and Moraga elementary schools along with Campolindo and Miramonte high schools would compose one unit while Lafayette and Walnut Creek elementary schools would be grouped with Acalanes, Las Lomas and Del Valle high schools in the other unit.

In other action this week, the high school board:

Approved development of "working plans" for additions and improvements at Acalanes, Las Lomas, Miramonte and Campolindo high schools, and a call for bids for installation of $10,000 in improved stage lighting equipment at Miramonte High;

Only Four Seats Available as Sun Tour Is Prepared

Wanderlust inclinations of a near capacity crowd were whetted at The Sun's Travel Night program at Acalanes High School Cafeteria Wednesday night with the result that only four seats remain available on The Sun's Jubilee Holiday Trip to Europe, scheduled to depart June 14.

The audience was treated to a motion picture tour of much of the territory to be covered by the trek. United Air Lines representatives gave tips on packing for air travel and a fashion show demonstrated the proper wardrobes.

Curbman! Spare Those Trees on Orinda Way!

The county public works department is now conducting a survey to decide the fate of the full-grown sycamore trees along Orinda Way.

The department is planning to establish a curbing along Orinda Way. It has not yet been determined if the trees are parallel to the proposed curbline.

"We are going to do all we can to save the trees," according to James Kelley, assistant road maintenance engineer for PWD.

Robert Klemmedson, Lafayette architect, who is building the Santa Maria Center at the corner of Orinda Way and Santa Maria Way, filed a letter of protest in hopes of saving the trees.

Thousands View Scout-O-Rama at Two Local Gyms

Last Saturday was scouting's finest hour as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts performed before thousands of enthusiastic citizens in the 1962 edition of Scout - O - Rama, presented in the gymnasiums of St. Mary's College and Diablo Valley College.

From two in the afternoon until 8:30 in the evening the hundreds of scouting members from this area performed their stunts and displayed their talents in special booths erected at the two field houses.

In addition to the customary uniforms, there were extra costumes designed by mothers for a series of spacemen, Spanish missionaries, automobile racers and other assorted characters portrayed in the special stunts.

The history of scouting was shown at the DVC exhibition while the story of the flag held a paramount spot at the St. Mary's demonstration.

Scouts also showed the various pursuits followed in winning merit badges and gave camping and first aid demonstrations.

Sprinklers for Tree Planting Immediate Need

The co-chairmen of the Orinda Beautification Committee met with Robert Babcock, landscape architect, last Friday at 8 a.m. to discuss the possibility of installing sprinklers along Camino Pablo down through the village.

Chairman Mrs. Joseph Conley, 28 El Verano, and co-chairman Ewart Fair of Fair's Orinda Store went over with Babcock the initial steps to carry out his master plan which would "unify Orinda with trees."

THE COMMITTEE has sufficient funds for the pipe. The installation will either have to be by volunteer or further contributions, according to Mrs. Conley. Before any plantings are put in, the watering system must be established.

The Orinda Women's Club has on file a contribution of $100 to be used for trees for this Camino Pablo area. The north and south sides of the village shopping areas are being considered as the starting point by the Beautification Committee.

They are also considering making a featured planting spot at the triangle at Santa Maria Way and Camino Pablo.

Among the members of the Beautification Committee are: Clarence Betz, Chamber of Commerce and Rotary; Mrs. Stephen Stewart, Orinda Women's Club; Mrs. Philip Champion, Orinda Art Center; Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, Orinda Garden Club; Vic Hale, Orinda Lions Club; Thomas Seibary, Orinda Association Planning Committee; Mrs. Alfred Young, Orinda Valley Garden Club.

MRS. ROBERT LESTER, Hilltop Garden Club; James Hupp, Hacienda Homes; Neil Porter, Glorietta Improvement Association; Mrs. Basil Winslow, California Conservation Council; Robert Babcock, landscape architect; Mrs. Julius Rohwer, Orinda Newcomers Club; and William Penn Mott, manager of the Eastbay Regional Park District.

I'll Remember April

APRIL, I'll never forget it! The month barely two weeks old & every day w/its crisis. Today, being the Thirteenth, you'd better watch out, but-ME! I've already had it!

DO you have days that go along like that? When you lock your keys inside the car, call Triple AAA, run out of gas the same day & have to call Triple AAA to the rescue again?

Have you ever turned on the kitchen faucet to whip up suds in the sink then gone daft in the garden watering for an hour only to see Niagara Falls splashing out your kitchen door? Of course, the flooded kitchen occurred just minutes after I'd waxed the floor first time in AGES!

OH, BLACK APRIL! The hectic happenings don't match the Spring Fever. Or maybe that's EXACTLY what the trouble is . . . We're blooming w/poison oak, a cat casing the closets for space to berth her kittens, an emaciated finger that got caught in a door, ironing piled up to the ceiling, & a profusion of purchases at the Nursery that will need planting in the next couple of days. I think I'll S.O..S. for an energetic helper from St. Mary's.

FRIDAY, The Thirteenth, was always Big Doings when we were kids. The purse or wallet on the sidewalk. We always did that! Hiding behind the hedge & stifling our giggles. Scarcely daring to breath for fear the victim would get suspicious. We tied a thin thread or bit of string to a ladies' handbag or man's wallet, both well-padded w/tissue paper. Just as the passerby reached down to pick it up where it lay, we'd yank on the string, pull it back fast and hollering & whooping April Fool, we'd run for our lives till our throats burned dry.

WE'D WALK to & from school very carefully making sure not to step on a crack in the sidewalk. Do you know I think we honestly believed in the old hokus-pokus that "Step on a crack & you'll break your mother's back?"

We were neither juvenile delinquents or emotionally disturbed children, but if a child was overheard saying that today, there are those who WOULD wonder . . .

A Few Spare Ribs

There's a story behind that "Hugged By Visitor" notation on the Doctor's Report filled out at the local rectory recently . . .

FATHER David Harrington's housekeeper, a mirthful Mama Mia name of Nella Parenti who speaks very little English, was visited by her grown son, Father Parenti, on her recent BIRTHDAY! Her son hugged her soooo hard that more guests were added to the little family B'day celebration. Namely Dr. Paul Slattery & the Orinda Resuscitator Crew who arrived to lend First Aid to the lady's fractured rib!

ONE OF OUR local ladies (V.H.) who works in the Infants' Dept. of one of Oakland's Finer Stores, gets quite a few customers who buy toys for their precious pets. Not the infant variety but the canine kind. Most of them are very satisfied customers, but our friend got a Little Old Lady last week who looked the toddler toys over, gave a disgrunted Humph! & said "You certainly don't have much selection for a dog, do you?" to which our saleslady replied sweetly as she could . . . "After all, this IS the Infants' Department."

THE ONLY thing you can hang on your doorknob THIS month is an April Fool but next month you just might like to try one of the piggybank-priced pastel May Baskets glimpsed in the gift shop of Orchard Nursery. Just the right size for baby roses, forget-me-nots, pansies or violets!

SAY, KIDS, since this is the season, didja hear this one? What do you call it when someone gets a bee sting & a mosquito bite Nope, wrong! "A Sting Along With Itch." . . .

RUBBERNECK GLANCES: A shocking pink beehive of a bonnet on Helen Rohrer seen dashing elegantly around town . . . The Ernie Starkmans & son standing on a corner watching all their friends go by . . . Shy Hill & Marian Devin TWO in last Friday's long lineup at the Bank. We swapped recipes w/Marian on How To Bail Out Water From Places It Shouldn't Be! Call her for a magic tip if your buried garbage can ever flips its lid & fills up w/rain water. See, we ALL have problems!

SIGNS OF SPRING: The George Hauers backyard-basking in the Sunday sun, getting a headstart on the rest of us for the May Park Pool opening . . . Tiny Faith McCarthy & her tinier Faith Junior, aged 13 mos., shopping the aisles at Black's.

Harold Nunn hardworking the hillside of his home . . . The Harold Hellers feeding their roses, as well as a few neighborhood kids always hanging around. The Hellers among those christening the handsome Firemen's Helmet Club at Berkeley's Yacht Harbor. The bldg., a real contribution to the local scene, to be rented for group parties, etc.

A WHITE TOPIARY rose tree on the Kendric Morrish's front porch, the only lingering memory of their son's recent wedding to the charming German girl . . . The Sheldon Allens are bidding friends to a party at their Hacienda Rd. home next Wed. purpose of which to announce the engagement of their dghtr. Julie Junior to a young man by name of David Servis. Both are students at Occidental down South. They'll wed the Fourth of July.

EASTER PREVIEW: Two beautiful hats, flowered & broad-brimmed, tooling down the hill in a white convertible & wearing them, a pretty mother-daughter duo, Yvonne Meyer & her young Ann . . .

Win Neighbor buttonholding friends for tickets to the Oakland Symphony Association's Pops Concert May 25. All will be Beer & Pretzels Avec Pops when Gerhard Samuel raises his baton in the best tradition of a Viennese biergarten.

Beer, wine, coffee & the salted figure-eights will be served at tables on the main floor of the Oak. Aud. for the one-night stand. Philip Bush of Orinda on the head committee.

TELL TALE TANS tell of ski trips & the feminine Brays, Melba & daughters, all looked like they'd been to Hawaii but it was more fun at Squaw . . . Joyce Carter, home from a ski spree to Alpine Meadows, wearing a rosy pink look on her face but when she removed her dark glasses, white circles framed her baby blues. This week she's out on the golf greens, glassless, & matching the white to the rest of her sunny face.

JUNIORSVILLE: Pine Grover Danny Mellish heading homeward w/his baseball mitt in his hot little hand & his yellow & black baseball cap on his perspiring head . . . THE CHARLES IVYS & friends playing a game of Love, tearing around their tennis courts, of course! A Danish Flag on a Moraga Hwy. mailbox & was it at the Nordquists & did we miss a Scandinavian holiday? The big one is May 15, Norway's Independence Day, like our 4th of July, only TWICE as much so!

SIGNS I can do without on a sultry afternoon: The one in the Lafayette Pet Shop—"Live Flies. By the big swarm."

JOLLY WELL GLAD, a little sad, to be home from England are Dave & Cynthia Smith who lived in London Town the past few years & were almost reluctant to leave it, they liked it so.

What do you think Smokey The Bear thinks of THAT cigarette commercial showing a young girl waltzing through a field of waist-high weeds w/a dangerous "weed" in hand? It's enough to make me give up smoking . . . & I'm going to!! The more I see of cigarette ads using women & young girls, the more disgusted I get. With myself. Listen, young ladies, don't ever TRY that first nasty one!

GOOFS: La Twiste Francaise is May 5, not May 12, as columned last week. One of the door prizes at the Nursery School Dance at Diablo will be a six-foot length of French Bread. Now who'll match that w/a jeraboam of good wine?

Canyon Has Spring Cleanup Campaign

Canyon's ninth annual clean-up drive took place last weekend. It is believed that Canyon was the first community in the county to conduct voluntarily its own cleanup campaign, the initial one being in March of 1954.

RESIDENTS were notified in letter sent out by the Canyon Community Club that burnable trash would be burned collectively at one spot. Another place would be provided where trash could be burned, with fire department sanction, of course.

Trash and metals too large for garbage cans was ta be left in a conventiently parked trailer. Larry Williams, who provided the trailer also "contracted," for a small fee, to haul the load to the county dump.

A few volunteers, including children, turned out for the trail, road and creek cleanup, with the help of "Jingles," the burro, equipped with portable trash containers.

MRS. LAURIE Williams, community club president, has available for those who desire it, a spring-type garbage can lid holder, guaranteed to secure lids against dog and raccoon raiders.

Regarding the cleanup campaign Mrs. Williams sighed, "This is getting to be more than a handful of adults and children and a lone burro can handle in one annual cleanup drive. Although there are fewer residents in Canyon, each year there seems to be an increasing accumulation of unsightly trash along creeks and roadsides."

Hats Off To...

Prentiss Combs, Popular Writer-Post Favorite

A NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK salute, please, to author Prentiss Combs, writer of distinguished short stories and novelettes and a regular contributor to the Saturday Evening Post.

A 5000 word story assignment for criticism in the U.C. class of the well-known Lloyd Eric Reeve, started student Combs on the road to authorship. Instead of criticism, his story about an Irishman in Mexico (it's now an anthology perennial) drew praise and encouragement from the popular professor. Five years later, Combs submitted it to the Post and made his first story sale. Fourteen of his stories followed suit, to the same popular magazine.

RAISED IN Buttonwillow, a fictitious-sounding place out of Bakersfield, Combs became bilingual at the age of seven when he started speaking Spanish fluently on the ranch owned by his father where 100 Mexican families were employed to work the land. This is the setting Combs uses for his popular "rural mail carrier" series which has appeared in the Post and is being considered for television by U.S. Steel.

ANOTHER STORY, "The Man With The Shine On His Shoes," which starred Henry Hull on Alcoa Premiere recently, stems from Combs' youthful days as a general apprentice to his father who gave up ranching to run two California weekly newspapers.

COMBS, who just recently removed a hirsute Hemingway beard, has been compared to that writer for his now-classic Post story "The Man On The Beach," which has a Puerto Rico background. It was there that the writer took his first job on graduation from U.C. preceded by Navy service in World War II.

WITH his wife Leila, son Chris 16, daughters Francie 10 and Tracy 5, the writer returned to Orinda last year after a sabbatical in Scottsdale, Arizona where he "wrote and loafed" intermittently. He works at home when the hammers are quiet for the family are adding Chapter III, a third house, to their original one on upper El Toyonal. A "combine" instead of a "confine," Leila laughingly calls it.

Currently concentrating on teleplays, Combs will be a member of the short story panel when the annual writers' conference convenes May 12 at the Claremont Hotel. Other writings of the local man have appeared in The Writer, Ladies' Home Journal, Reader's Digest and Better Homes & Gardens.

Volunteer Work Offers Teenagers Way to Jobs

Volunteering is a way to break the vicious teen-age circle says Mrs. John Selley, president of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County, as she announced the opening of the summer teen-age recruitment program.

No experience, no job—no job, no experience. A volunteer job can show an employer that you mean business.

All boys and girls are urged to attend a meeting beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday, at Las Lomas High School, in the multi-purpose room.

Agencies will present a "Smorgasbord" of jobs for your consideration, including recreation and library helpers, office assistants, and helping the mentally and physically handicapped.

There will be free agency tours in the afternoon. Those wishing to attend the tours should bring a sack lunch. Free Cokes!

Among the agencies participating are: The county library, recreation departments, hospitals, United Crusade agencies, civil defense agencies, county health department, and Napa State Hospital.

Textbooks

this article is sufficient cause for dismissal or removal from his position . . . " says the code.

McCunn took as an example the "Primer of Freudian Psychology" which he said is being used as a "textbook" for a course in U. S. history and government.

"THE QUOTED sections of the state code do not set forth regulations for English, biology and other courses, but they do apply to U.S. history and government courses," McCunn said.

"The Primer of Freduian Psychology would be all right as required reading in psychology courses, but NOT in a U.S. history or government course," he said.

"A discussion of Freud would be acceptable in a hostory or government course if included only as a part of an overall textbook," McCunn clarified.

"The same applies to novels such as "The Uprooted" and "Catcher in the Rye" which are used as textbooks in district U. S. history courses.

"HERE AGAIN these books or novels should be regarded as reference books, not required textbooks. I have championed the building of our library where even the presentation of the seamy side of life can be beneficial to the development and knowledge of the student," McCunn continued.

"But where some books do not belong in U. S. history courses but instead in other courses, and some books are merely novels and should be considered reference materials and not textbooks, other books in U. S. government and history courses are possible violation of the state code for a different reason," McCunn said.

"This is where the history text omits important phases of our American history and heritage, like the ommission of statements made by famous men.

"These are inspiring, and important to the overall evaluation of our history," he continued.

"So, I should ask the question I continually ask, and get no answer—what is a textbook?

"IN U. S. history courses, what does "The Uprooted" have to do with American institutions and ideals, as outlined in the state education Code?

"They are not related," he said.

McCunn said there are 14 class sections at Diablo Valley which do meet the state code in this respect, but added there are others which do not.

McCunn admitted that he said during a recent dinner honoring him that he had been placed "under wraps," and added "the board felt I should not discuss textbooks until the current studies involving the Personnel Standards Commission and the Leavitt group are completed and submitted to the board."

DURING THE dinner meeting, McCunn noted that no district board members were present, and he commented, "They are behaving as prudent board members."

He said that during his 12 years as superintendent, there had been seven investigations, and added, "I have no fear of being investigated."

The dinner was attended by several hundred persons, and McCunn was praised by a series of speakers, including O. J. Wohlgemuth, charter member of the district governing board.

Death Claims Two in Area Accidents

A Walnut Creek man was killed in Orinda Monday when the bulldozer he was driving toppled over on top of him.

Stanley Baer, 37, of 71 Rudgear Road, jumped on the Caterpillar tractor used to operate a drilling rig and started to back it along a steep hillside, according to a worker's report to the sheriff's deputies.

The dozer tipped over and the boom from the drilling rig pinned the man to the ground across the chest.

Baer was an excavation and drilling contractor. Rescuers worked an hour to pull the heavy tractor off the man. The accident occurred on a lot on Tumbling Brook Road, near the top of El Toyonal Road in Orinda.

Billy John Tubbs, 19, was fatally injured Saturday morning when the speeding car in which he was riding spun out of control at a freeway approach from North Main Street. Tubbs, from Napa, was thrown out and crushed beneath the twisted auto, according to the California High Patrol.

William Lee Glasgow, driver of the car, suffered lacerations and an ankle injury. He was reported in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital. Glasgow is from Concord.

A 16-year-old Walnut Creek girl was injured last week when the car in which she was a passenger collided at the intersection of Kinney Drive and Juanita, Walnut Creek.

Dianna Jones, 16, 1102 Saranap Boulevard, Walnut Creek, was injured, and taken to Kaiser Hospital by her mother. She was in a vehicle driven by Margaret Ann Egli, 16, 43 Norman Court, Walnut Creek.

According to officers, Miss Egli's car was northbound on Juanita and turned directly into the path of a car on Kinney Drive. The second vehicle was driven by Norman A Passur Jr., 28, 3416 Warren Road, Walnut Creek.

'Open Housing' Is Approved

OPEN HOUSING — 4 col 48 pt

Contra Costa County's Board of Supervisors went on record Tuesday night endorsing an open housing covenant, an educational attempt to curb discrimination in housing because of race, creed or national origin.

The West Contra Costa County Council of Churches received the unanimous support of the board for their drive to get signatures and donations.

In a similar drive launched several months ago in the mid-county area by the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches, 1200 names were collected.

In other action, Contra Costa County Administrator J. P. McBrien was given permission to authorize a $1250 study for a central food handling agency.

THE PROPOSED service, originally brought before the board last June, would provide meals for the hospital, the main jail in Martinez, the Byron Boys' Rehabilitation Center at Marsh Creek.

McBrien said a device has been developed which can cool prepared meals in as short a time as 60 seconds.

Like TV dinners, the food could be prepared at a central location such as the hospital, he said, and then taken to the place where it is to be served and run through the new oven.

If adopted, the plan could reduce the number of people employed in the food program, he added.

BERT MARSHALL, a food service consultant from Pacifica, will carry out the study.

A technical committee to the County Transit Study Committee is being organized, reported Harry Morrison Jr. He said it would include city engineer, Armand Werle of Walnut Creek, along with members of the Public Works Department and engineers from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

THE BOARD granted planning commissioners a total of 60 days to consider the proposed rezoning and possible changes in the General Plan for the $10 million Soule apartment house suggested for west Lafayette.

A major transfer of funds within the Public Works Department was approved. This will allow continuation of maintenance work through the fiscal year and for purchase of right of way for widening Taylor Boulevard.

The board instructed planners to make a study to redefine "home occupation," as used in the zoning ordinance for residential zones.

Taxpayers in Search for New Director

President E. L. Slagle of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association has announced that the association was beginning the recruitment for a new executive director to fill the position which will be made vacant by the resignation of incumbent Harry L. Morrison, Jr. as of October 1.

President Slagle stated that the directors had agreed that although the salary would be "open" in order that the best possible qualified candidates could be considered.

There would be minimum qualifications of graduation in public administration, political science, economics, business administration or some allied social science and at least one year's experience in public administration in California. The application deadline will be July 1.

Those interested in requesting an application form and a description of the position's duties should write to him at 917 Alhambra Avenue, Martinez, California, Slagle concluded.

Home Is Sold Through Fair Play Council

By HELEN SCHARMER

The sale of a home to a member of a minority group has been and can be accomplished in central Contra Costa County without special problems, a recent example indicates.

Abiding by the principles of the Open Housing Covenant, the seller in this case dealt with a local realtor who arranged a clear, legal sale.

THE OPEN Housing Covenant was published in The Sun in April, 1961. Some 1800 of a total 2300 signatures obtained were listed.

Sponsored by groups including the Contra Costa Council of Churches and the Fair Play Council, it states in part, "I, the undersigned, desiring to offer concrete evidence of my conviction, hereby covenant with other like-minded citizens in declaring my intenion to support in my community the policy of open housing.

"I hereby bear witness that I am ready to welcome into my neighborhood, neighbors on a personal basis without regard to race, color, creed or national origin."

In an interview with the seller it was learned that the home was sold with this statement in mind and that the sale was not made in a " fit of spite" as was erroneously reported earlier in The Sun.

At first the seller and her husband tried to market their home on their own without using the "non-restricted" description in their advertisements.

During this time the Fair Play Council had their home listed, but the home was not shown to its new owners until later, according to Mrs. Jane Birnbaum, housing co-chairman of the Fair Play Council.

NO REAL objections to the sale were made by neighbors, she added. The owner of the residence next door had signed the Open Housing Covenant.

One or two remarks were made, but no action was taken either against the seller or buyer.

However, it was learned from the sellers that the remarks attributed to their minister by The Sun were not made, nor was he present at a luncheon where he was said to have discussed the people involved.

This information was later confirmed by the minister.

The new owner of the home, a negro, says he has encountered no special problems.

At present the Fair Play Council has eight rental listings, according to Mrs. Birnbaum.

SINCE LAST April one sale, the one described above, has been made and three families who are members of minority groups are looking for homes.

Persons desiring to list their homes for sale in accordance with the principles stated in the Open Housing Covenant may contact George Fujioka, or Mrs. Birnbaum, said Mrs. Birnbaum.

Executive director of the council is Rabbi David Robins.

SMALL BOOKWORMS, like young Peter Douglas Foster, joined with their elders in observing National Library Week this week in this area. ## Sun Jubilee Tour Has 36 Persons

You must hurry in order to take advantage of The Sun's Jubilee Holiday Trip to Europe, as 36 reservations have been made, and there will be room for just 45 persons.

The Unitour trip to Europe will run for 28 days, starting June 14, with transportation provided by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines and United Airlines.

Persons signing up now can avoid disappointment of missing the finest travel bargain being offered this year.

In addition to the 28-day trip, vacationers can also sign up for a 10-day optional extension, for visits to Spain and Portugal, it was announced.

The 28 days will include visits to Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Liechenstein, Austria, Italy, Monaco, France and England.

The Spain-Portugal extension will include visits to Madrid, Seville, Cordoba, Granada and Lisbon. The additional cost is only $195 per person, including air fares.

Another bonus is the announcement that Sun Unitour travelers may linger on the foreign shores for a full year without any increase in the fare cost.

The return time may be extended to within a full year, by arrangement with the airlines.

Whatever the choice, the Sun trip to Europe should be one of the great experiences of a lifetime," said Herman Silverman, Sun publisher.

The bargain prices offered for the trip are possible due to the arrangement of a number of trips in one package, he added.

The Sun offers the Jubilee Holiday as a service to its readers and area residents.

Miramonte Mirror

Miramonteens Relish Taste of Summer Daze

By ANN LINCOLN AND KITTY MIKA

With Easter vacation on its way Miramonte teens are beginning to get their first taste of summer. Those lucky enough to have swimming pools in their backyards have found them to becoming increasingly more populated as the mercury soars upwards. Beaches and ski slopes . . . ditto.

Heading for the ski slopes of Mt. Shasta Friday afternoon for a weekend of skiing were many Miramonteans. Connie DeLaveaga, Joyce Thompson, Kathy Adams and Donna Peake proved the snowbunny hill unworthy and tried the higher slopes. Some of the old pros, namely Mary Baker, Carol Troy, Richard Bedayn, Tara Doty and Carolyn Coburn put on quite a show for the underclassmen. Lani Freeman surprised everyone with an unexpected triple flip.

Steve Williams was upset with the 30 mph winds which hampered his Sunday skiing. Others seen whipping down the slopes were Jeff Patten, Karen Bentley, Jeff Ellermeyer, Ken Hamburg, Ellen Rasmussen, Randy Dunn, Kathy Harnett, Cheryl Lockling, Carolyn Caldwell, Greg Patten, Bonnie Winters, Steve Hampton and Sue Fernsten.

Roger McCosker entertained the Rat Pack and dates with a party Friday night. Some of those attending were Cheri Romer with Roger, Skip Spaich and Jackie Villata, Jackie Edenholm and Johnny Cooper, Bonnie Kent and Sam DeFranco, Roger Howard and Sharon Huebschwerlen, Hester Harris and Mick Kazaar, Pat Putnam and Bill Utter, Lana Barker and Bill Powell, Linda Van Sickle and Doug Rasmussen, Pat Canfield and Greg Peterson, Jim Tonanba and Allison Hanford, Cecil Crutchfield and Tami Wilson. People were wondering what the reason was for Cecil's continual smile.

Brian Traynor held a small party at his home also. Among those enjoying themselves were Jill Taylor with Brian, Jake Jacobsen, Sue Pollazek, Tom Gaffaney, Nancy Young, Connie and Ron Parks.

A group of senior boys decided to try beachcombing stag last weekend. Rick Merriam, Brad Peters, Mike Mcquaid, Paul McChesney, Paul Barrett, Robin Alvarez, Brad Harlan, Dwight Thompson, Grigg DeWitt, Ron Jouthas and Dan Winthers soaked up the sun along with salt water, sand, etc. at Tinitus Beach. Steve Miller braved the waves on his trusty air mattress providing a great deal of afternoon entertainment.

Sharon Nielson, Wendy Wilcox, Dick Miller and Jeff Kingston viewed some pretty strange sights while skiing at Edelweiss Saturday. It was so hot that many of the skiers ssshed by in wierd combinations such as ski pants and a bathing suit top, jean bermudas and sleeveless shirts, and even just swim trunks.

Pam Pearson celebrated her eighteenth birthday with Dan Winthers, Sue Nattress and Paul McChesney by going out to dinner and then driving around Berkeley in Paul's (beautiful) Convertible with the Top Down (natch)!

Getting many Orinda girls eyes . . . and pocketbooks on summer frocks was the Deb's fashion show Saturday afternoon. Comments were going around concerning how terrific Diane Davidson and Sue Hammond looked in modeling their bathing suits.

Other models doing a great job in adorable clothes were Maureen McConnell, Sahri Sage, Darlene Aldam, Kay Keilly, Joan Barnes, Sue Nattress, Roxanne Tess, Joan Ehle and Sheridan Stampley. People were a bit astonished to see the choice of dresses made by Judy Lucas and Vicky Tesman. They were pretty cute dresses even though they hit about half a foot below the knee. Jo Suardi did the commentating for the show.

The "Children's Hour" was viewed by some little ones this weekend: Jane White, Carol Goldsmith, Joan Scholberg, Roxie Smith and Jo Anne Warner.

Among many who tramped through Sharon Campbell's house Saturday afternoon to the swimming pool were a few of the boys who decided to add some atmosphere. Skip Spaich, John Reilly, Johnny Cooper and Mike Chance did a swan dive into the water . . . from the roof of the house.

Thieves Take Money, Bikes, Knives, Auto Parts

Money, car parts, a bicycle and a hunting knife were among the items stolen this week, according to reports of the sheriff's Lafayette substation.

Burglars stole $200 last weekend from the Lafayette Tool Rental at 3697 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

An Antioch housewife, shopping Saturday afternoon at Payless Market in Pleasant Hill, misplaced her purse. By the time it was recovered, she had lost $38 in cash and jewelry worth approximately $200, all of which were removed from the purse, officers said.

Juveniles broke the glass window in the principal's office at the Merriwood School on Rohrer Drive, Lafayette, sometime over the week-end, ransacking the draw of confiscated items and taking an eight-inch hunting knife.

Raymond Poppeck, 10, of 2952 Hillsdale Drive, Pleasant Hill, had his bike stolen from the Pleasant Hill Intermediate School last Friday.

Raymond carefully chained and locked it to the bike rack when he left it there all afternoon. Friday night he returned to find a broken chain and an empty bike rack.

Rick Smith, a St. Mary's College student, left his car parked in the parking lot at the Moraga college last week-end and thieves made off with $76.75 worth of car parts including the four wheels, tires, generator and carburetor.

Six cars in an apartment house parking lot at 3610 Bickerstaff, Lafayette, were ransacked last Friday night Nothing was reported missing.

In other crime reports, George Dewey, Jr., was booked for disturbing the peace, assault and battery and resisting arrest after he got into a fight with his father-in-law, Edward Sias, 149 Doris, Drive, Pleasant Hill.

Christopher Blasts at Democrats

George Christopher, mayor of San Francisco for the past six years, blasted the Democrats at Moraga Wednesday at 8 p.m. He appeared as the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor. Christopher addressed an open meeting of the Moraga Valley Republican Women's Club at the old Moraga school.

"Our battle is not with each other. It is with the administrations in Washington and Sacramento," Christopher said. "We will conduct ourselves with dignity and propriety. There is no room on our shoulders for chips."

IN TURN, he lambasted the Democratic federal and state administrations. He said that defense spending could only account for 25 per cent of the current three billion 800 million dollar deficit in the national budget.

He claimed that Governor Pat Brown has 12 secretaries. "Now I don't deny that he needs them," said Christopher. "I do deny the taxpayer should stand the expense."

After citing other examples which he said pointed up the over-spending in Sacramento and Washington, Christopher said that Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev have contended that we will "spend ourselves to death."

Christopher pointed out that in 1923, Lenin said after conquering the rest of the world the United States would fall into Communist hands like "overripe fruit."

In the Kremlin last year, Khrushchev shook a finger at Christopher and told him that the U.S. will be finished soon because of "their love to luxuriate . . . they're soft."

THE MAYOR expressed concern over the "lethargic methods" of the administration in making appointments. He said that of 85 new judgeships, not one Democrat was named. He compared this with Eisenhower's record.

Christopher reminded his audience that he was first elected as mayor in 1955, by the largest majority ever given a candidate for that office. He also pointed out that the interest rate on bonds in S.F. is 2.4 per cent, the lowest in the nation.

He was introduced by Mrs. Harold Bates, co-chairman with Mrs. Ray Devin for the program. "Christopher could succeed to governorship regardless of what would happen . . . He is a Republican and doesn't apologize for it . . . He stands for what is right in life," said Mrs. Bates in her opening remarks.

CHRISTOPHER pointed to the fact that seven times in California history, lieutenant governors have succeeded in midterm to the office of governor. "California can no longer afford the risk of a nonentity in this important post," he said.

He listed the complex, diversified duties of the lieutenant governor which include: presiding over the state senate and participating in such bodies as the state lands commission, the reciprocity commission, the board of regents of the University of California and the governing board of California's fifteen state colleges.

Friends of the Orinda Library are sponsoring a bridge luncheon April 27 at 12:30, Mrs. Joseph Rupley, ticket chairman announced recently.

"This is the only fund raising event of the year for the Orinda Library," said Mrs. Rupley. "As the library is of the utmost interest to everyone in Orinda, built and maintained by the community, we hope for a generous response."

The following homes in Orinda will be opened for the affair: The Walter Boysens, the Ted Harrer's the William Mordays, the Milton Selbys, the Dwight Skaggs, the Edward Kruses, the Philip Bushes.

Mrs. Nathaniel Dodge Jr., is chairman of the event. Her assistants are Mrs. Roger Stark and Mrs. Fred Borden.

Tickets for the luncheon and bridge are $2.50 each. They may be ordered by phoning Mrs. Rupley, CL 4-2577.

Ask Big Budget

An increase of nearly $130,000 necessary to take care of additional teachers and to provide for pay increases for office personnel and teachers was proposed in the 1962-63 budget for the operation of the county superintendent's office.

The budget will provide additional teachers for the school at Contra Costa County Boys' Rehabilitation Center, Byron. It will also provide teachers for an additional class at the Valley School for severely mentally retarded at Alamo.

Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga, who prepared the budget, said the county plans to increase the population of the boys' center from 20 to 40 as facilities are expanded in the coming year, making a third teacher necessary.

A SECOND class is anticipated at the Valley School because of the number of children presently on the waiting list. Classes for severely mentally retarded children are limited to 12 by state law.

As approved by the County Board of Education, the budget would also provide a five per cent increase in salary for office personnel and $2000 each for teachers in the special schools. There are approximately 30 non-certificated employees and 20 teachers.

The proposed budget for next year is $954,611, as compared with the actual expenditure in 1960-61 of $825,383.

Moraga Lions Will Sell Safety Packages Saturday

The Moraga Lions Club, meeting at the Moraga Barn Monday night, selected Saturday as the date for the entire club to work in the Moraga and Rheem area on the club project of community safety.

Lions hope that each home in the area will be visited by a Moraga Lion offering a safety package for sale that is designed to save lives during the coming summer season.

The safety package consists of a set of plastic resuscitating tubes that are used in emergency use for mouth to airway artificial respiration. Also included is a professional type first aid kit and boklets on emergency action and procedures.

With private and community pools opening for the summer months, with the increase of home and play accidents that always accompany summer school vacations, and with the need of these safety devices in every automobile, it is felt by the Moraga Lions group that the organization is prepared to offer a real service to the community in this worthwhile project.

It was also announced by Dick Erving, chairman, that April 21, the Moraga Lions Club in conjunction with the Rheem merchants will hold the annual Easter egg hunt at Rheem Center for the children of the local area.

Further plans were discussed at the meeting on the first giant community luau that is tenatively set for June 2.

It was announced that 10 Moraga Lions and their wives have made reservations for the annual district convention at Hoberg's in May.

Good Friday Services Set

Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County, in its attempt increasingly to meet the spiritual needs of the Central Valley Area, announces six Good Friday services, the offerings from which go to support the council's chaplains at juvenile hall and the county hospital.

The following services have been coordinated by the Rev. Eugene Sill, worship chairman.

The first service will be held at the Lafayette Community Methodist Church in Lafayette from 12 to 3 p.m. with the Lafayette Christian Church, Lafayette Community Methodist Church, and Lafayette - Orinda Presbyterian Church participating.

The second service will be held at the Martinez United Church of Christ from 12 to 3 p.m. with the Rev. Gifford Webster, the Rev. Lorena Warford, and the Rev. O. R. Warford participating.

The third service will be a service of Tenebrae at 8 p.m. at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church in Orinda. The Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church, St. Giles' Episcopal Church, St. Mark's Methodist Church and the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church will be participating.

The fourth service will be from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church in Pleasant Hill in which the participating churches are: Church of the Resurrection (Episcopal), Church of the Nazarene, Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the Walnut Creek Friend's Church.

The fifth service will from 12 to 3 p.m. at Grace Presbyterian Church, Walnut Creek, with ministers of the Walnut Creek area participating.

The sixth service will be at the First Presbyterian Church, Concord, from 1 to 3 p.m. with the Concord Ministerial Fellowship participating.

OGDEN'S INC. awarded prizes Thursday through Saturday at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to celebrate the grand opening of their remodeled quarters. John Ogden awards Mrs. Willis Branch, 2 Washington Lane, Orinda, a Serbin dress at Friday's drawing. Sun photo by Bob Yost.

BEFORE construction began on Moraga's Campolinda high, there was this barren, level expanse of land. Facing Moraga Road, Lafayette is to the left, Moraga to the right. Because the road someday will be a busy thoroughfare, only two accesses to it are planned. To serve the school district in the best possible way.

THE DREAM is shown in architects' rendering of overall site development. As was the case with Campolinda's "twin," Del Valle, construction will be broken down to units built in stages for future expansion. Main entrance is to the left before the great court. To the right is the turnoff from Moraga Rd. to the parking lat. The lot will serve all facilities including the football and baseball fields to the left rear. In the foreground is the girls' athletic field.

THE REALITY as seen today is the first increment of construction. The three wings shown are: left, two academic buildings; and right, the gymnasium and locker building. Dark patch in foreground is the base for the basketball court. It will go in first; then tennis courts. Future academic wings will be added to the left, center; and parking to the far left. Between courts is a future pool site. Sun Photo by Marvin White.

Campolindo High Took Decade of Planning

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a two-part series exclusive to The Sun on Campolindo High School. It deals with planning, construction and facilities. The second part will include curriculum and administration.)

Seven years ago, 180 youngsters sat at their desks in the first grade. Some of these students were attening primary schools in Canyon, Lafayette, Moraga and Orinda. Others had not yet moved to California and were enrolled in schools spread across the nation.

Seven years ago, while these students were still "just little tykes" starting their school careers, the trustees and ad- Union High School District were working on their projection of ninth grade enrollments. These projections led to the conclusion that more high schools would have to be built to meet the press of enrollment five and even seven years hence.

THIS SEPTEMBER that same group of first graders and those plans started nearly a decade ago to provide these youngsters with a high school education will finally converge. This September, Campolindo High School, the Acalanes District's fifth school plant, will open to serve elementary pupils from Canyon, Lafayette, Moraga and Orinda.

Looking out over the Campolindo High School site, now covered with construction equipment and the skeleton of what will soon be a thriving high school, superindent Neil M. Parsons observed "There's a terrific amount of planning in back of everything we see going on here. Population growth trends, land surveys, negotiations for the property, a bond election, and a myriad of details preceded the final selection of the site alone.

"PLANS FOR an earlier district high school, Del Valle, had just gone through the same process. With these plans as a core, the architect and district planners moved forward with specifications for this fifth high school," Parsons reminisced. "Today the first units of that school are nearing completion."

Like its predecessor schools—Del Valle, Miramonte and Las Lomas — Campolindo is being built on a "build-as-you-grow" philosophy. A school plant opens with basic facilities and utilities and a central core of classrooms and other prime spaces. Construction continues for the next several years keeping ahead of the school's enrollment. The school starts with a freshman class.

As the ninth grade moves on to the tenth, a new grade steps in behind. After three years, the first class has become a senior class and the grades behind that first class have been filled-in to form a comprehensive four-year high school.

REFLECTING on the amount of planning and preparation involved in moving a high school through from the first contemplation of the need for one to the final enrollment of a full-sized student body, staff and curriculum, superintendent Parsons remarked, "High schools are very much unlike the Uncle Tom character 'Topsy' who 'just growed,' today's modern high school requires planning and coordinating nearly comparable to the complex preparation that goes into preparing vehicles for the space age."

"Freshmen who march into class the first day next September at Campolindo will find a complete array of facilities," according to Alex Winchester, principal of the new school. Winchester and the district administrative office have been working on the purchase of equipment and the selection of a staff for the school for September.

STEEL FRAMEWORK of the gymnasium is shown beyond roof cascading over covered corridor. The gym is designed to house a competition basketball court, bleachers, or three practice courts when the bleachers are folded back. There will be concrete stairs where the corridor roof angles. This connecting link between the gym and classrooms reveals the nature of the building: steel frame, sub frame of wood and gravel roof. Sun Photo by Martin White.

THIS CROSS-SECTION of the exterior wall of one of the academic wings shows the structural steel frame. Running past the frame is a curtain wall with a steel and aluminum frame into which will fit any type of panel desired. The top windows are of fixed glass.

Here Are Suggestions For Family Movie Fare

Movie fare recommendations for the family as prepared by the Film Estimate Board of National Organizations are offered here as a Sun service to readers.

Abbreviations are as follows: A—adults; MY—mature young people; Y—young people; F—family; C—children unaccompanied by adults.

CLOWN AND THE KID—F-C

Told in a simple, straightforward manner, this is the story of a travelling carnival act in which a clown and his motherless son and their fine white horse are the performers.

Though several problems plague them for a while, everything falls neatly into place at the end of this pleasant, unassuming film.

THE COUCH—A

The couch of the title is one in a psychiatrist's office. Its occupant is a young paroled ex-convict much worse off than the psychiatrist knows, since he has, at picture's start, embarked on a series of random killings. His method is to telephone the police announcing his intention to kill at a certain hour, then to stalk the streets looking for a chance victim. What starts out as a psychological drama becomes a murder thriller, its menace sustained by much apprehension and a broody score.

A MAJORITY OF ONE—A-MY-Y

The widespread success of this East-meets-West comedy as a stage play promises well for its warm, diverting film version. A Jewish widow from Brooklyn accompanies her daughter and diplomat in the American Embassy in Tokyo. On shipboard son-in-law on their way to Japan, where the young man is a the matron meets a widowed Japanese industrialist, and during the long crossing these two middle-aged people discover that they have much in common. Initially, both must overcome prejudices born of wartime tragedies, but this and the differences between them of nationality, tradition and religion assume minor importance in their acceptance of each other as friendly human beings. Careful in their portrayals though they are, Rosalind Russell and Alec Guinness never quite become Mrs. Jacoby and Mr. Asano.

MOON PILOT—F

Walt Disney's comedy about a reluctant astronaut has fun satirizing the United States powers-that-be, and at the same time wanders off into pure fantasy. The space flight about which the film centers is to orbit a man around the moon, and never were there more brave men who wanted not to go. Tom Tyron, as the one finally chosen, is terrified of the rocket trip, especially since planes always make him sick. Efforts to get him into orbit, accompanied by the uproar of his security agent (Edmund O'Brien), the storming and stressing of the general in charge of the operation (Brian Keith) and the interference of a vote-conscious senator bring intermittent chuckles.

LIGHT IN THE PIAZZA—A-MY

Like the novel on which it is based, this film study of a mother's love for a handicapped child presents an interesting social and ethical problem. Due to a childhood injury, the daughter of wealthy American parents has not developed mentally since she was 10, although physically she has grown into beautiful womanhood. To postpone the father's decision to place her in an institution so that he and his wife can resume a normal marriage, mother and daughter take a holiday in Italy. Since the girl's retarded mentality in no way affects her appearance or her gay, youthful spirits, she captivates a young Florentine. A situation that could have been distasteful is handled with subtlety in script and direction, as well as with sympathetic insight.

THE DAY THE EARTH CAUGHT FIRE—A-MY

A conjecture on the ultimate results of nuclear testing is presented in this skillfully made, realistic British film. Sudden, violent world-wide weather disruption—freak storms, floods, tornadoes—sends newsmen on the London Daily Express searching for the cause. They discover that two nuclear bombs of tremendous power set off simultaneously at the North and South poles by the Russians and the Americans have altered the earth's axis and orbit. The world is racing toward the run and extinction, and all living things are suffering from the intolerable heat and drought. The story is told in flashback just before their explosion, so that whether or not the world survives is left to the audience.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE—A-MY

Updated, the Four Horsemen (Conquest, War, Pestilence and Death) ride in World War II in this second ambitious screen version of the famous Ibanez novel. The fact that the two daughters of a great Argentine house are married, one to a Frenchman, the other to a German, divides family loyalties when Hitler begins to take over Europe. There is less concern with the war itself than with family relations under war conditions, and the love story dominates all else. Glenn Ford plays the principal role, and Ingrid Thulin is tender and beautiful as his mistress. But it is Charles Boyer and Paul Lukas, respectively the French and German fathers of once close cousins now fighting against each other, who give pathos and depth to the tragic situation.

THE HAPPY THIEVES—A-MY

Stealing great paintings has become the specialty of a gentleman thief with two devoted accomplices—an attractive woman who is still an uneasy novice in the business, and an artist whose excellent forgeries are substituted for the stolen works. Basically, however, the story is a bit grim, with murder lurking behind its gay robberies. Too many characters and too much plot are introduced too rapidly, but once matters are straightened out, the complications are ingenious and exciting.

LAFAYETTE'S CEMETERY, which dates back to 1874, is the final resting place for many local residents who came to the area prior to the turn of the century. In the above picture, the headstones for a Jones family is seen. All were born in the 19th century. Sun photos by Bob Yost.

Cemetery Dates Back to 1874

(Editor's Note: The information in the following article was assembled by the Lafayette Library Association's historical committee. Mrs. Bernice Mills, a member of the committee, actually wrote the article. The library committee was aided in its research by Mrs. William Rosenberg.)

In 1874 a group of Lafayette citizens banded together with the idea of establishing a cemetery for the community. A four and a half acre site located on a hill at the eastern outskirts of town was purchased from Medford Gorham, and the Lafayette Cemetery Corporation was formed. The following is copied from the original record book:

La Fayette, Aug. 2nd, 1874

1st. At a meeting of the Citizens of La Fayette for the purpose of forming a Corporation under the Laws of the State of California to be designated the Cemetery Corporation of La Fayette.

2nd. On motion of C. S. Whitcomb, Elam Brown was chosen chairman of the meeting and G. W. Hammett Sr., secretary.

3rd. On motion of C. S. Whitcomb, Benjamin Hodges, John Taylor, Warren Browen, G. W. Hammett and C. S. Whitcomb were chosen directors of said Corporation for the first year.

4th. The meeting adjourned to meet on Saturday at 3 o'clock p.m. 1874.

Signed G. H. Hammett, Sr.,
Secretary
Oct. 15, 1874

RECEIVED of C. S. Whitcomb, one hundred dollars ($100.00) as payment for 4½ acres of land for cemetery purposes.

Signed W. M. Gorham"

In this little hilltop cemetery lie buried many pioneer settlers and their families. On the western slope of the hill is a simple headstone marking the grave of Benjamin Shreve and his wife Adaline.

Shreve opened and taught the first school in the settlement in 1852.

He named the town La Fayette after the French general.

When the post office was established on March 2, 1857, he became the first postmaster and served from 1857 to 1887.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

A Column Is Born

MORAGA NOW has a place in the Sun.

Its 13,000 rolling acres have come a long way since the King of Spain granted the property to Joaquin Moraga in 1835. Joaquin's old adobe is over the borderline, in Orinda territory, part of Bill (Thornton Lumber) and Bobbie White's estate. Moraga still has plenty of authentic California ranch houses to call its own. And more going up every day. Also authentic California ranch duplexes, and authentic California ranch apartment houses.

Our first citizens, the cows, obligingly graze higher and higher on the hillsides. We boast two post offices, two fire stations, two elementary schools, one high school (almost), two bars, one Safeway, three gas stations and a complete shopping center.

Some of these are named for Joaquin and some for Donald L. Rheem. Each name has its devotees. But Campolinda High? This is about as popular a moniker as "Candlestick Park," across the Bay.

As I spend most of my time over the hot typewriter, will appreciate your sending in any scraps of Jane-like information you'd like to "share," to borrow a phrase from the kids.

And now for our very own column.

* * *

REALTY, REALTY! Rumors are rampant from reliable sources and rampantly denied from the source's mouth that W. U. Barnes will be closing Utah Construction's 40,000 acre ranch come June first. The Rampants have it that the ranch is for sale. Only one way to find out: offer Utah the rumored $14,000,000 asking price. Then lemme know, will ya?

As of the first of May, they'll be playing Ring-Around-the-Rheem Center. Joe and Evenly Nosenzo of Jo-Ev's Variety will double their store space by taking over the area next door, now Lew Rolley's Design Center. Lew will move to the store currently occupied by Patio Music Shop. And Patio's Carl Schwedhelm plans to enlarge his music program elsewhere. So you won't know the players without a store card.

A happy aside from Schwedhelm: his Frankie is getting better day by day in a nursing home. She spent long weeks at Kaiser Hospital after her car met with a telephone pole at the Rheem Texaco station February 22. Happy convalescence, Frankie.

On Donald Drive, three of the "pioneers" who bought Parade of Homes houses some six years ago, are moving. Anne and Don Thatcher, 123 Donald, will be leaving soon with their three cherubs for Albequerque, N.M. Fran and Don Swanson, 131 Donald, are lot hunting, Ellen and Tom Peeke, 116 Donald, are building. After the current of little Peeke No. 6 (daughter No. 2) larger quarters are needed.

M IS FOR MOM. B is for Bridge. Mix well and up came the Moraga Parents' Club's dessert bridge Tuesday. Hostesses for the highly successful affair were: Ruth Van Newhyzen, 10 Pimentel Court; Betty Terrell, 1100 Larch Avenue; Audrey Killian, 132 Donald Drive; Ruth Salet, 11 Harold Drive; Claire Long, 11 Camelford Court; Lil Enos, 2 Cortes Court; and Jean Schild, 112 Devin Drive.

Co-hostesses were Dorothy Mathews, Jean Bates, Jane McCampbell, Marie Rosenblatt, Ceil Barcelon, Shirley Thaler and Margaret Harlow.

The last regular meeting of the club featured a diversified program. Dr. Arthur Danzig of the Contra Costa County Heart Association spoke on "How to Keep Your Husband Alive." The lag in attendance is not to be misinterpreted.

Second billing went to Bruce Kyle's fourth grade Spanish class. The tykes conversed and presented a play in Spanish. It was an accurate adaptation of Chicken Little. Only instead of an acorn konking Chicken Little on the noggin, it was a large leaf. This was an improvement over the original. Besides, who can say "acorn" in Spanish?

Moraga Parents Club is now selling tickets for their night at the Dramateurs' "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial." The date: Saturday, May 5. Tickets: $2.00. Call Annette Rockoff, DR 6-4235 for reservations.

ANIMAL LOST AND FOUND: W. U. (Utah Construction) Barnes' secretary Elaine Reade is bemoaning the loss of their black and white mutt, "Troy." He disappeared last week near the Moraga Post Office and hasn't been wuffed from since. If you should meet a black and white "mostly terrier" with license tag No. 104, that's Troy.

Canyon artist Jonathan Batchelor found Solomon, his Siamese cat, you'll be relieved to know. The day Batchelor's exhibit opened at The Gallery in Oakland, Solomon, unwise to the ways of the city, leaped out of the car. Batchelor walked up and down Lake Park whistling and shouting: "Here Solomon, here Sol etc." He was about to give up when a colored lady asked: "Pardon me, you looking for your pet? Could it be he?" There was Solomon, frightened but safe.

Meanwhile, back at The Gallery—Batchelor's exhibit drew raves from the critics. The Tribune's Miriam Dungan Crass said: "Batchelor's sheer joy in nature's bounty, be it lush landscape or figure, continues with new vigor in his April exhibit."

Batchelor leaves Solmon home Tuesday and Wednesday nights when he teaches creative art and sculpture classes at Miramonte. But the cat is considering enrolling in his master's class which meets at old Moraga school Wednesday mornings.

AH, MEN! Neldham's Bakery's Jack Neldham is the young and handsome newly-elected president of the national American Retail Bakers Association. On April 26, he and his Pat will fly to Philadelphia for the convention at which he'll be installed. And if you've ever eaten Jack's Cream Dream cake, you'll know why he won. Can't think of a nicer way to diet.

WALTER L. REA was presented a television set among many honors at his recent retirement banquet. Rea has been manager of the Jefferson Standard Insurance Company since 1951. He will continue his career from his home, 23 Ross Drive, Moraga. To the left is R. B. Taylor, vice president of Jefferson Standard, and Rea.

Go To Church

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christian warfare, in which spiritual good overcomes the evil in human thinking, is a theme of the lesson-sermon to be heard Sunday at Christian Science Church services.

Scriptural selections will include Paul's exhortation, "The night is far spent, the day is at hand: Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Romans 13). "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the title of the lesson-sermon.

This citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read, "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad.

"They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing," (page 29).

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda; 2 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, and at the corner of Grant and Park streets, Concord.

'Plan F' Should Get A New Appraisal

The Sun heartily recommends that the augmented County Committee on School District Organization endorse "Plan F" for schools within the Acalanes Union High School District boundaries. "Plan F" has already been approved by "Study Group West" and "Study Group East."

"Plan F" would unite all elementary and high schools in the Orinda, Moraga and Canyon districts into a single district, and will also unite all schools in the Lafayette and Walnut Creek districts into one district.

This will create two districts each having both high schools and elementary schools, in place of the present system, where there is one high school district and five elementary districts.

SINCE THE COUNTY augmented committee has previously recommended "total unification," it would have to rescind its action in order to give "Plan F" the green light for submission to the voters.

The public is invited to a meeting of the augmented committee May 2 at 8 p.m. at the Acalanes High School library. The "East" and "West" reports, both favoring "Plan F" will be reviewed.

The Sun has also reconsidered its earlier evaluation which favored total unification, and we now believe that the creation of the two districts will allow for smoother transition from the elementary to high school levels, at the same time allowing a high degree of local control.

One district covering the entire Acalanes District would in time become very populous, and administration would be unwieldy.

THE CONCEPT OF total unification has also stirred up such strong opposition among district trustees and the public that it would almost certainly fail at the polls, leaving local leaders to try again after losing much valuable time.

Local districts in California have until 1965 to develop their own plans for unification of school districts, after which the state will do the job.

Dog Poisoning--

Although there have been several dog poisoning cases in the area in recent months, and several dogs have died as a result, another main source of danger to canines are the insecticdes used in spring gardening, and the poisons left for gophers and moles.

Local veterinary hospitals receive many accidental poisoning cases, and the suffering involved in these instances is equal to the case of the deliberate poisoning.

Large quantities of insecticides are used each year by the avid gardeners, and this is dangerous for any dogs or other domestic animals which happen to wander into the yard looking for scraps of food.

AND THE UNSUSPECTING dog may eat either the poison left out for gophers or moles, or he may eat the rodents themselves which have been poisoned.

Do not leave these lethal preparations laying around, for even children have been known to fall victim, especially the very young.

If your dog has been poisoned, either deliberately or accidentally, you will have to act fast to save him.

Veterinarians recommend that you get the dog to their offices as fast as possible, for even two or three minutes may make the difference.

THE DOG SHOULD BE induced to vomit, but this effort may not be successful since it involves pouring something like salt water down the throat of an animal in convulsions.

When you take your animal to a veterinarian, take along some of the substance he ate, if possible, with perhaps an identifying label of the package if there is one.

The veterinarians will know what to do when you arrive. Injections have proved to be successful for strychnine, and there are other effective methods for various poisons.

Get The Facts, Mam!

We hope you remembered to register for the June 5 primary elections where necessary, and will find time to do some thinking about the various people who need your vote to win several county posts.

Seven editions of The Sun will be published before the primary elections, but don't let this lull you into feeling there is plenty of time to get the facts.

The all-important primary election, which is the final deciding election in the case of most county offices, will sneak up on you.

DON'T JUST listen to scuttlebutt over the back fence, or go on the basis of a postcard sent to you from one candidate's supporter.

Attend meetings, and ask questions.

Many of these jobs are high paying, and demand good people. It is hard to complain about county services if you didn't vote, or voted for the wrong man on the basis of insufficient evidence.

IF THERE ARE three or more candidates, as in the case of the sheriff's race, the primary voting will be decisive only if one of the candidates receives more than 50 per cent of the vote. If this does not occur, the two top candidates will compete in the November elections.

A Gritty Game....

By VIC RUGH

One of the most popular games in America today gets very little publicity. It has no name and despite its great popularity in the Bay Area, Walnut Creek is the only city in this area that provides the proper equipment for participation.

The playing field can be laid out in one of two patterns — with either short straight stripes separated occasionally by "X" marks or by longer, diagonal stripes.

Two pieces of playing equipment are required and a third is essential for the most satisfactory results.

THE FIRST ITEM serves a combination purpose. It is mounted on good substantial steel pipe to prevent its being torn down in the manner of football goal posts after either a victory or a defeat.

Mounted on this metal post is a device which serves to keep score and also replaces the need for a timekeeper in the game. It has an extra patriotic motif of a flag in its decor and despite its red color it has nothing but capitalistic leanings.

Actually, any contestant must be somewhat of a capitalist to indulge in this sport. Otherwise the entire spirit of the competition ceases to exist. You might even compare this game to golf where certain fees must be paid to get proper consideration.

In addition to the standard equipment on the steel post, you also need an object to mark your place along the lines. A flat, thin wafer like you use in Parchesi won't do. Neither will a chessman. This game requires a special device which is rolled into position on four wheels.

THERE'S ONE sidelight we might mention. If you accidentally move your playing object into what is known as the red zone you automatically receive a special award. Aside from its color, this area can often be recognized by a squatty, double pronged form of water connection particularly popular among the hook-and-ladder set.

In the normal processes of the game, however, your playing device is rolled between two white stripes and your next move is to depart from the area to your daytime home-base, known as the office. If you should activate the timing device with a coin there is no special award at the moment.

The actual thrill of the game comes within an hour or so. Someone — generally a lookout posted in the front office — cries out the warning.

"Tally-Ho, the Fox," is a good cry for some sportsmen but the lookout generally shouts: "Here comes a cop!"

A WISE LOOKOUT then neatly steps out of the way and watches the stampede as contestants stream out to the sidewalk from all parts of your building and the adjacent structures.

Some are beseeching: "Havya gotta penny?"

Others are fumbling with coins trying to put them in the scoring device. If they fail to move the little red flag before the uniformed attendant arrives they win a bonus — an invitation to visit the Municipal court.

Come to think of it, there may be a name to the game. Every player who successfully activates the scoring device walks away with a smug smile but the other fellow always calls out: "Damn!"

Guess that must be the name of it.

Only $600 Sir? for a Million Dollar Baby?

By MARIE MONAHAN

DEAR COLLECTOR, Internal Revenue:
I'm writing this little note to you—
To state my case, be my own defendant—
RE: Your Capital Gain, who's our latest dependent.
Consider fairly, you only allow
SIX HUNDRED . . . now, a cause to row.
Be fair, Sir, fair. $600 per—
Wouldn't half begin to cover her.
Why, on her most recent house-wrecking spree,
She boosted U.S. ECONOMY . . .
She flung my Spode upon the floor.
I had to buy One Dozen more.
She threw her ball through the big glass door.
Broke china lamps. We replaced four!
OUR DARLING took apart the vacuumn . . .
The plumber was called to unflood the bathroom.
$600—, Sir? You don't know the score!
Her exempted worth should be TEN times more!
My Good Man; Babies are expensive creatures—
Requiring all manner of extensive features.
There's the crib, the bibs, the potty chair . . .
DIAPERS by dozens piled up to there.
The bathinette, walker, the sterilizer.
The carbed, the playpen, the vaporizer.
The booties, the blankets, slippers & socks.
The bunting, the snow suit, the Sunday frocks.
A CHRISTENING gown with a lacy bonnet.
The silver mug with her initials on it.
JEEPERS, Mister. Just count the creepers,
Not to mention the flannel & terry sleepers!
Now keeping a baby shod, WHO can be thrifty?
The last pair of shoes set me back five-fifty!
FOR PRECIOUS, we're still paying the Hospital & Doc . . .
The Druggist who maintains a stock of
Powders, oils & vitamins,
Cottons, creams & safety pins.
THERE'S the stroller, the carseat, the new highchair . . .
The chifforobes. (It took a pair!)
I'm NOT including the Teddy Bear—or
Satin ribbons for her hair.
(It really wouldn't be quite fair.) Of course,
I will not count her hobby horse!
BUT IT'S obvious your Department is not very clear—
On the High Cost of Loving one baby. It's dear!
$600, Sir? You don't know the score . . .
So I'm sure you won't mind . . .
I've deducted LOTS more!

None other,
Her Mother.

Letters to The Editor

BEAUTY

Dear Editor:

In the current controversy over the development of the Laher-Fazio property, the words "beauty" and "beautiful" are frequently used.

The precise definition of these words has baffled and eluded philosophers and thinkers from Aristotle to Santayana, yet real estate developers and journalists bandy them about as familiarly as the chit-chat of a service club luncheon.

Do they use these words in their ordinary dictionary meaning? i.e., "That quality or combination of qualities which affords keen pleasure to the senses," (Oxford Universal Dictionary, Third Edition, Revised).

Or do they mean such planting of shrubs, landscaping, etc., as is compatible with a 40 per cent return on the investment?

I have lived in Contra Costa County, on and off, for the last 40 some-odd years, and during that time I have witnessed the violation, in the name of progress (another word that needs investigating) of some of our finer natural values.

The late Frank Lloyd Wright once referred to Lafayette as "a hideous little village." And a former resident, a visitor after an absence of 15 years was recently heard to exclaim, "Lafayette? I thought for a minute I was in El Sobrante!"

Letters to The Editor

IN THE SWIM

Dear Editor:

For some time now a number of your neighbors, as a result of interest expressed by the students at Del Valle, have been formulating plans to raise $25,000 to build a swimming pool at the high school.

The school board has agreed to provide the additional amount of monies required over and above the $25,000 to build the swimming and diving pools behind the gymnasium.

These are the same conditions under which the Miramonte High School swimming pool was built. Fortunately for us, the school board has agreed to provided the additional funds necessary.

Many of you are iterested in other improvements such as football lights, but these improvements cannot be obtained unless the full amount of money is raised by the community.

An architect has been working on the plans and it is estimated that the total cost will amount to approximately $65,000 to $75,000. Construction time will be approximately eight months.

This project is sponsored and endorsed by the Los Padres Del Valle Parents' Group.

Within a few days your high school student will call on you for a donation. If we can obtain a $10 donation from each family in the area we will reach our goal. We know some of our families cannot afford $10 while others can afford omre. Please be as generous as you can. Your donation is tax deductible.

SWIMMING POOL COMMITTEE

PARK PLANS

Dear Editor:

As you are doubtless aware, the board of supervisors has placed on the June 5 primary election ballot a bond proposal to acquire and develop nine county park sites totaling nearly 5000 acres.

Contra Costa has needed additional recreational facilities for many years. As our general population and the number of our youth increases, this need becomes more acute.

In 1950, for example, our county's population was only 297,400. During the next 12 years, that figure jumped to today's 420,000. More than 118,000 students are enrolled in Contra Costa County schools this year. By 1980, we will have a population of 800,000, nearly double this year's number.

The number and size of Contra Costa's parks has not kept pace with this tremendous growth. More people mean less land available for park use. In recent years, we have seen large tracts given over to sprawling subdivisions to house our ever-growing population.

Within the foreseeable future, lands open now for park development will be gone. The suggested county park program will provide family recreational facilities within 30 minutes driving time of any point in the county.

It is estimated the bond proposal will cost the average Contra Costa homeowner a maximum total of $1.70 in 1967. This amount will decrease gradually to a total of 4 cents when the last of the bonds are retired in 1996. Operation and maintenance will cost the average household about 60 cents a year.

To help muster support for the park program, the Citizens Committee of 500 for Parks is being organized.

Slave Drivers Attention: Let Your Kids Do It!

By Herman Silverman

"Say, boss, I hear you've been bragging about your week-end athletic prowess—tennis, golf and stuff." It's Snoopy, the office cat.

Well, hello, Snoopy. Yes, last Sunday morning we played golf, then the boys and I ran through four sets of tennis in the afternoon.

"You must be training for the Old Men's Olympics of '64," Snoopy answered. "But, boss, with all the week-end athletics, who's pulling the weeds in the garden? Who's planting the petunias? Who's cultivating the raphiolepsis? In other words, who's tending the tilling while you're tilting at tennis?"

Snoop, old boy, I'll overlook the "old men's olympics" crack, but I'll answer your questions about the garden.

The big problem is solved

The weeds, the petunias and raphiolepsis are being cared for. You are looking at a man who has solved most of his gardening problem.

No, no outside gardener! No, we didn't blacktop the entire yard or plant artificial flowers!

The secret is this: Many little hands make a garden grow. And little hands grow bigger each year.

In other words, we not only grow plants around the house, we also grow children. And these children, who grow like weeds, also help grow plants.

Golf balls and petunias

Yes, Snoopy, last Sunday while Eleanor and I were trying to hit that little golf ball, Mark was doing his weekly stint in the garden. Janet planted a flat of petunias in the same bed where earlier she had planted the tulips.

Danny wielded a hard-hitting hoe, besides doing the hand watering. (He gets paid for the watering.)

Does my conscience bother me? Yes, a little. I'm the slave driver and the kids don't relish their two-hour weekly garden bit. They don't come running — pleading to know how they can help. But they don't fight it either.

They know they are expected to help as part of their role in the family. They don't receive pay for it, unless it is over and above their regular duties. (Sometimes they wash the car or do extras for money.)

Gardening for money?

They do receive a very small allowance but this is because they are members of the family and not for the work they do. (Make own beds, clean own rooms, handle the dinner dishes. I hasten to add this is not all automatic — it takes work to get them to work.)

Let this "child-training expert" explain about the gardening routine. It didn't come easy; it didn't happen overnight. A few years ago we talked to the kids (child psychology) and started them on 15 minutes every Sunday. This was increased now and then, until the program now calls for two hours a week. I usually work with them.

Frankly, they don't average two hours. This week they each put in about an hour and 20 minutes. Other weeks during winter they won't do anything, nor during certain other week-ends. Of course, there's no work during the week-end of their birthday.

My, how nice it looks

But I am absolutely amazed at how much they accomplish, even when they were much smaller. (They are now 15 and one-half, 14, and 12 and one-half.)

Obviously we are not Christopher Columbus. A drive down our neighborhood each week-end shows that you, too, have long discovered the secret of child labor.

And isn't this only right?

Shouldn't our kids share in the family's work responsibilities?

And how else will our children learn to plant a petunia or juniper? Or to prune the roses or fertilize the lawn?

And how else could I get out for tennis or golf if they didn't help?

Acalanes Accents -

By CAROL LACY

Have you ever wanted to be a part of all the noise and excitement of a Mardi Gras? If so, you'll have the chance tonight, when the various clubs at Acalanes present their annual carnival and Mardi Gras.

It will be held in the Acalanes gym from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

The theme this year is Basin Street, New Orleans, and all who attend are to wear costumes.

ACCORDING to Gayle Easton, the student body Club's Commissioner and the overall director for this event, the decorations will consist of large clown heads on the stage curtains and of different colored balloons and streamers hanging from the ceiling. The individual booths are to be decorated by the clubs sponsoring them.

The 16 booths range from food to games. For instance, in the food line, Fleur de Lys, the French Club, is having a sidewalk cafe where those attending may have dinner. Blueprint, the school newspaper, will sell cotton candy and popcorn balls.

The Rally Committee will have their usual jello throw, so those of you who have a grudge against any member of the committee may get your revenge. They are also having a dart throw.

IF YOU'RE fond of shaving, you'll get a chance to try your hand at shaving a balloon, thanks to the Spanish Honorary Society.

The classes also have their own booths. The Freshmen are having a sponge throw, the Sophomores, a marble race, the Juniors, a shuffleboard and golf game, and the Seniors, a fishing grab bag and a volleyball toss.

The dance group is sponsoring a dance in the lunch room. Each of the clubs sponsoring a booth has donated a prize.

TEN CENTS admission fee will be charged to cover the cost of the decorations.

Remember, this affair is not like a dance where you must have a date. The carnival is merely for all the students to get together and have fun. I hope to see all of you there, except for those who are going skiing, of course.

Even with all the excitement of getting ready for the Mardi Gras, the Acalanes students took a little time off last Wednesday to see many of our talented students perform in an assembly.

TO START the show the dance band played a selection. The other talent included "Exodus" as played on the piano by Ann Adle and Sue Brown, "Lullaby of Birdland," sung by Nancy Keathley, Susy Norton, Joelle Rutherford, and Ray Castellino, a piano solo by Russle Blake, a quartet including Scotty Scott, Warren Fox, Rich Ensminger, and Phil Knox, and a comedy routine by Lanny Hertzberg.

Now it's the juniors' turn! Wednesday and Thursday, the senior members of the Mt. Diablo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs met at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley.

Tonight and tomorrow, the Mt. Diablo District CFWC, junior membership will hold their fourth annual convention at Diablo Country Club.

Honored guest will be the state president of the group, Mrs. Robert Mason of San Diego. Mrs. Mason will arrive by plane this afternoon. She will be met at the airport by Mrs. Arthur Larson of Walnut Creek, Mt. Diablo district coordinator. From the airport, the women will go to the Walnut Creek home of Mt. Diablo district president, Mrs. Donald L. Carson. Mrs. Mason will be Mrs. Carson's guest during the convention.

Also to be honored at tomorrow's luncheon will be past presidents of the juniors. These include Mrs. Charles Pratt, Jr., Walnut Creek, who served from 1959-60; and Mrs. Edward Allen, Lafayette, who served from 1960-61.

Theme for tonight's banquet will be "Fun Fair." It will get underway with a cocktail hour at 6-7 p.m., followed by the dinner banquet.

Some 300 juniors and guests are planning to be present for the gala evening which will be climaxed by the annual awards festival. At this time, the district's 15 clubs will receive recognition of their year's philanthropic works in their respective communities.

Awards of accomplishment will be presented in the fields of Americanism and legislation; crafts education and literature; art; gerentology and health; international affairs; mental health; religion and family living; youth; conservation and press.

Husbands of juniors are also planning to attend the awards banquet after which an evening of dancing to a combo is planned to complete the first night "Fun Fair" gaiety.

In keeping with the Easter season the Saturday theme is "Gateway to Easter." Each of the district's 15 clubs are bringing a decorated Easter basket to be used as table decorations and later used as awards.

A cash prize will be awarded to the Easter basket judged "best" from the district.

Election of new district officers for the club year 1962-63 will be held during the morning session. Mrs. Mason will be the guest speaker at the morning session. At 11:45 a.m. workshops for incoming and outgoing presidents will be conducted by Mrs. Donald L. Carson and the new district president.

Following the luncheon the special contest awards for the Vogue sewing contest; teenage miss; citizen of the year; and Hallmark contest will be presented.

The individual club crafts chairmen are asked to participate in the crafts workshop by bringing to convention any crafts item for the "bag of tricks."

Climaxing the conclave will be a fashion show.

Sun Shines on Brides....

It isn't even June, and Contra Costa has a bumper crop of newlyweds. Four beautiful brides who were wed recently were: Pamela Pelletier to James Hemstalk; Diana Doyle to Andre Tolpegin; Marilyn Penprase to Robert Glen Albright; and Eva Marie Alexandra von Arnim to William Bradford Moorish.

PAMELA PELLETIER-JAMES HEMSTALK

Pamela A. Pelletier was a lovely sight as she walked down the aisle at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, on the arm of her father. Waiting nervously at the altar was James C. Hemstalk.

Pam and Jim, popular young Las Lomas graduate, recited their vows recently at a late afternoon formal ceremony. The Rev. Alfred M. Secombe, rector of the church, officiated.

St. Paul's was decorated with traditional white flowers and candelabra with burning tapers.

Pamela's gown was a white lace and silk organza with bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice had sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her short veil was attached to a pearl crown. Pam carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mary Terry of Walnut Creek was the bride's only attendant. Her gown was pale pink with matching accessories. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink flowers with white ribbon streamers.

Rod Bledsoe of Walnut Creek was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Peter Pelletier and the groom's brother, Dan Hemstalk.

The bride is the former Pamela A. Pelletier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Pelletier, 924 Hawthorne Drive., Walnut Creek.

James' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hemstalk, 930 Seven Hills Ranch Road, Walnut Creek. The young man is serving with the U.S. Army. Having just returned from a 16 month tour of duty in Korea, he expects to complete his military service in six months.

The reception was held at the home of C. L. Kanewske in Walnut Creek.

Among those present were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hemstalk of Canada; and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Trudeau and Mrs. M. T. Pelletier, all of Oakland.

The young couple is now at home in Walnut Creek after a honeymoon trip to southern California.

DIANA DOYLE-ANDRE TOLEGIN

Another beauteous brunette bride was the former Diana Doyle, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William M. Doyle, 282 Glorietta Boulevard, Orinda. She and Andre Tolpegin exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Vincent de Paul's in San Francisco at a one o'clock service.

Diana's gown was of white silk organza. It was floor length sheath with an overskirt, lace-trimmed. The elbow length veil was held in place with a Dior rose. She carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias and hyacinth.

Maid of honor was Miss Elise Vaccarest. Bridesmaids were the Misses Elizabeth McFarland, Marlene Lueck and Cynthia Swanson.

All of the attendants wore street length sapphire blue satin gowns with matching headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Best man was Merrill Newman. Ushers were Robert Conway, John Hill and Robert Taft.

The church was decorated with white bouquets on the main and side altars. Father Francis Murray officiated. The bride was given away by her father, Col. Doyle.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Louis Academy and Oregon State University where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta and mortarboard.

The bridegroom graduated from Tamalpais High and the University of California. He received his A.B. from Hastings School of Law. He belongs to Theta Xi and Order of Golden Bear.

Diana looked stunning in her going-away outfit. It was a Dior-blue Chanel suit with matching hat.

The Tolpegins are now at home in San Francisco after a Palm Springs honeymoon.

MARILYN PENPRASE-ROBERT ALBRIGHT

Marilyn Penprase became Mrs. Robert Glen Albright at a beautiful formal ceremony recently at St. Perpetua Catholic Church, Lafayette.

Marilyn and Bob were joined in marriage by Father O'Looney of Newman Hall at 3 p.m.

Marilyn's gown was a white satin Bianchi with pearl encrusted front panel and a chapel train. The elbow length veil was held by orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a cascade of white butterfly roses.

The new Mrs. Albright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson J. Penprase, 3950 Rancho Road, Lafayette. Bob's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Albright, 888 Dewing Avenue, Lafayette.

The bride is a graduate of U.C. where she was a Chi Omega. Her attendants were Gayle Sheehan, Barbara Fortini, and Sharon Albright. Sharon, the groom's sister, attends Diablo Valley College.

Bob is a graduate of U.C.'s school of engineering. While on campus, he was active in Phi Kappa Tau and Pi Tau Sigma.

His best man was Robert Peter Paige. Ushers were: Alan Hammersmith, John Dickerson, Donald G. Albright, brother of the groom; and Robert E. Penprase, brother of the bride.

After a Coronada honeymoon, the Albrights made their new home in Lodi. They will live there until July when the groom completes his service training.

EVA MARIE von ARNIM-WILLIAM MOORISH

Orindan William Bradford Moorish chose his lovely bride from Germany. She is the former Eva Marie Alexandra von Arnim, daughter of Baron and Baroness Carlheinz von Arnim of Balje Uber Stade, Germany. Eva Marie has been staying with friends in Oakland since her arrival from Germany last year.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendric Morrish, 35 Rheem Boulevard, Orinda.

The couple were married recently at First Congregational Church, Oakland, by the Rev. Clarence Reidenbach. Tulips, snaps and gladioli in formal arrangements decorated the altar.

In the absence of her parents, Eva Marie was escorted to the altar by Malcolm Champlin. Mrs. Thomas Morrish was matron of honor. Secondary attendants were Mrs. Albert Rubey, Mrs. Richard Royce and Miss Lydia Reynolds.

All wore willow green Italian silk sheaths with overskirts and carried white tulips.

The bridal gown of candlelight satin was made en train. A Spanish lace veil was held by a matching crown. The bouquet was of white roses.

After the honeymoon the newlyweds will leave for New York to make their home.

The bridegroom received his B.A. at U.S. and his masters in business administration from Stanford.

Portrait Project

Mrs. Henry Evans, chairman of Glacier Guild, this week announced the spring project which Glacier Guild members are sponsoring—the presenting of Katy Madsen, well-known Bay Area portrait artists, who has generously offered to share her talents for the benefit of John Muir Memorial Hospital.

Katy Madsen's portraits have won many prizes and she is a member of the Diablo Art Association, the Valley Art Center, and the Society of Western Artists. Group sittings may be arranged at a slightly higher price and because this project is being offered for a limited time those interested in making appointments are urged to contact Mrs. Whitehorn as soon as possible.

Folk Singer for Mills

Tuesday the Mt. Diablo Mills Club is presenting their annual Children's Easter program. This year, the featured performer will be Miss Frances Knight, a "Teller of Tales in Song."

In her program of "Tales in Song," Miss Knight presents an unusual selection of narrative songs taken from music literature of all periods and all lands.

Emphasis is upon songs with humorous situations and good characterizations, which the singer highlights with minor costume changes made on stage and her natural miming ability.

As a concert artist, she has been presented from coast to coast and has developed a unique program of narrative songs from many sources. Miss Knight's presentations are delightful, gay and refreshing.

The program will include songs that are rarely heard, as well as familiar folk tunes and ballads. Her singing is remarkable for its expression of characters telling the tales.

Miss Knight will be giving two performances in the Lafayette School Auditorium. One is at 11 a.m. and the second at 1 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door. All proceeds from this event will be donated to the Mills College.

Air Force Academy Is Taj Mahal of America

By HEC HANCOCK

Air Force Academy, Colorado:

Home was never like this. It should be so good.

Some refer to the academy as the Mountain Palace. While not unappropriate, I think a tag of the Taj Mahal of America is more definitive.

However, despite all the modern luxuries, there is one area the Air Force remains unchanged. You still have to have whole flocks of immunization shots. The feeling in California must be that Colorado represents a hole of pestilence, because I got punctured with a shot for everything but the bite of a drunken tsetse fly.

Actually, I'm afraid to drink any other water but that out of a Lister bag. That's a little far out, but I do use a purifier.

Despite the fact that a good snow pack remains, skiing here in Colorado Springs has closed down for the season. Skiing is at the Broadmoor Hotel slope, a matter of about six miles from the downtown area. Within a matter of 20 minutes a skier can be on a slope comparable to the one at Edelweiss, serviced by a chairlift with lights for night skiing thrown in. To insure excellent sonw conditions, there is an artificial snow machine that is used to great advantage.

The plight of these poor people tears at my heart.

Actually, however, the surprising thing to met is that to get the best skiing, you have to drive almost as far as we do in California. There's plenty of skiing close to most of the areas, but bigger areas such as Aspen and Arapahoe Basin are reached only by a drive that compares with the distance we have to cover in Northern California.

Everybody here is very ski conscious, and it isn't hard to understand why a school such as Denver University is the perennial collegiate ski champion.

On the way back, and incidentally, let me add there is a considerable parcel of real estate between Walnut Creek and this spectaular Rocky Mountain country, I had great reports on skiing at Alta and Brighton, which are just out of Salt Lake City.

Originally, the Alta ski season was to close down last weekend, but with a pack of over 100 inches operations are still going strong.

Not only is there a good pack, the Salt Lake City areas receipted for over 12 inches of snow last weekend.

There's one word of wisdom I would like to pass on to those that someday plan to make the trek to either Aspen or Alta. Beware of Wendover, Nevada. This is a real tourist trap. They slip a speed zone in on you, and many find they have to buy their way out of the state in the form of a speeding ticket.

The fines are payable to the manager of the gambling casino. Thus at long last they have come up with a way of losing your money without having to go through the tedious procedure of dumping it into slot machines, etc. I wouldn't say this was a kangaroo court, but the guy kinds of jumps funny like when he walks.

To cap things off the road was closed for several hours going east due to a sandstorm. Such a spot to get stuck, Nevada's version of Cannery Row.

Due to the heavy academic schedule required of the cadet, the academy has never had a ski team that ever had a large claim to with the promise to install my own unique technique. However, fame. In view of this, I gallantly offered my services as coach, the reception was less than enthusiastic. As a matter of fact, one major was heard to mutter something about the blind leading the blind.

That's the trouble with these brass types, no foresight.

Las Lomas Takes Field Events in San Ramon Meet

Piedmont's Highlanders let the rest of the league take "the low road" last Saturday as they captured the San Ramon High School relays with a total of 39½ points.

Las Lomas was the nearest competitor with 23 points while the others trailed behind with Del Valle 19, Miramonte 17, Acalanes 17, San Ramon 14½ and Alhambra 0.

Las Lomas piled up its points in the field events, taking the discus with a team toss of 482-11½. Jerry Stevens, Jerry Ross, Chris Reed and Mike Skinner made up the hurling squad while Gary Holtwick took top individual honors with a 137-9 toss.

LAS LOMAS shotputters were in their glory. Joe Lawler, Arlie Loe, Bill Stanley and Perry Conner combined to total 178-6¼. Piedmont's Rich Foskett was the shotputter of the day, however, with a 55-5 heave.

Las Lomas took the high jump at 22-1 with a team of Robbie Leninger, David Allasia, Arnold Utterback and John Alexander. Top high-jumper was Bill O'Toole of Del Valle, 5-10.

Del Valle grabbed the 880 relay in 1:33.5, a team of Mal Cameron, Cliff Schroeder, Max Christiansen and Bill O'Toole.

Piedmont won the 440 in 45.2, the 480 low hurdles in 56.4, the two-mile in 8:33.8.

ACALANES SET a record in the 280-yard low hurdles relay with a time of 39.5, beating out Las Lomas. The Acalanes team was composed of Larry Queen, Grove Humert, Nardy Fontam and Paul Hein.

The medley relay went to Miramonte in 10:52.3, a team made up of Dave Dunning, Rich Kay, Rich Gallagher and Tom Gunn.

Golfers Compete

An electronic golf computer will measure the prize-winning drives at Capwell's - Walnut Creek "Electronic Driving Contest." The golfing competition is slated for Friday, 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Walnut Creek store's Men's Sportswear Department.

Entrants must be 16 years and over to compete for merchandise prizes awarded daily for the three longest drives. Golf clubs, balls and tees will be supplied by Capwell's-Walnut Creek; but golfers may also bring their own clubs.

The "golf brain" will measure the distance of competing drives. The computer will also note slices and hooks during the competition. The longest driver will be awarded a MacGregor X-pand Jacket. The second and third place golfers will receive a MacGregor X-pand Shirt and Power-shoulder Striper Shirt, respectively.

Pleasant Hill Loses But College Park Wins in Gym

In East Bay Division Gymnastics, Pleasant Hill dropped a close match to Skyline 65-60 a week ago and nearby College Park defeated Castlemont 71-57.

In their defeat, the Rams unveiled a sparkling new gymnast in Tony Schilz. Schilz placed first in the free exercise and tumbling events and well filled the gap left by Dennis Hansen—lost to Pleasant Hill for 4½ weeks because of scholastic ineligibility.

Terry Whizman, Don Douglas and Len Van Noord also performed well for Pleasant Hill.

In College Park's victory over Castlemont, Scott Gardiner, Don Torrenga and Tom Chapman made their best showings of the year.

Chapman placed first in the still rings and added another first in the parallel bars.

Gardiner took first in the trampoline and the tumbling.

Torrenga won first place in the horizontal bar and tied for second in the rope climb with Gardiner.

Las Lomas and San Ramon Win in Dual Swim Meets

Las Lomas came from behind to defeat the Acalanes swim team in a dual meet last Friday by a 50-45 score, winning the final two relays to pull off the victory.

Acalanes had a 45 to 38 bulge on the points going into the last events, but a surge of power by the Las Lomas squad did the trick.

San Ramon pulled a similar stunt in defeating Alhambra, 49-44.

In the Acalanes - Las Lomas dual battle the following winners crossed the finish lines:

400-yard freestyle — Bob Straud, LL, 4:54.

50-yard freestyle — Fritz von Tagen, LL, :24.

100-yard butterfly—Tom MacPherson, A, 1:07.6.

200-yard freestyle—Phil Simon, A, 2:03.1.

The Acalanes B squad managed to avenge the earlier defeat of the varsity swimmers by winning over Las Lomas 52-34.

San Ramon 49, Alhambra 44

Miramonte Heads Loop; Whips San Ramon 4-1

Acalanes Holds Second by Shellacking Piedmont

Miramonte remains at the top after the second week of Foothill League baseball play, as they downed visiting San Ramon 4-1 in Orinda on Tuesday.

Acalanes took a strong hold on second place, as the Dons walloped Piedmont 8-0 in another Tuesday game.

Alhambra evened its league record at 2-2 in drubbing Del Valle 8-0.

Fifth place Las Lomas had a non league game with Pleasant Hill.

Miramonte 4, San Ramon 1

The Matadors from Orinda could only touch San Ramon pitcher Don Collar for two hits, but poor fielding and some fancy base running supplied three big runs in the third inning.

Glen Tobias started the inning off for the Mats with a bloop single and took second on a misguided pickoff play. Catcher Jay Grilli was safe on an error and Tobias scored.

After two consecutive outs, Bob Williams walked. A pass ball advanced the runners: Bruce Knickerson dropped a slow grounder down the third base line and an attempted throw home hit Grilli in the back. He scored, and in the confusion Williams raced home also.

The Mats' one run in the sixth came on a double steal with Knickerson crossing the plate.

San Ramon was able to tag Mat pitcher Pete Boyle for seven hits, but could put nothing together after the first inning.

In that inning, three solid singles off the bats of Jim Howell, Ken Schiller and Don Collar produced San Ramon's only run.

Acalanes 19, Piedmont 4

The Dons displayed awesome power in mopping up cellar-dweller Piedmont.

Pete Snider, Bob Gillham and Bill McHale all had circuit clouts and John Paul Jones added three RBI's with three hits in four times at bat.

In the first, Pete Schneider doubled and Jones singled. Schneider scored as Rick Underwood was safe on an error. Bob Gillham singled, sending home Jones and Underwood. Steve Kosach singled to score Gillham. John Day singled and Kosach scored. Brian Allen was safe on an error, and singles by Schneider and Jones brought Day and Allen home.

The Dons never let up. After their eight runs in the first, they scored four more in the second, two in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Vik Golfers Win

Golfers from Diablo Valley College continued their winning ways this week when they scored a brace of victories with the University of California frosh and Cabrillo College as their victims.

Tuesday the fledgling Bears sent Tom Luddy to the tee to win medalist honors with a 74 at the Orinda Country Club, but that was where the victory march halted. The Vikings wound up the match on the long end of an 8-6 mark.

It was the fifth win in a row for the Viks and gave them a season record of 13 and 4.

DVC scoring included Dick Shaul and Steve Lamphere tied with 77s, Don Minor registered a 79 and the other two members of the squad, Dennis Gault and Al Saunders, also tied with an 84 apiece.

DIABLO VALLEY'S divotmen were impressive as they soundly dumped Cabrillo College 13-2 at the Aptos Beach Golf Club in Santa Cruz Monday.

Dick Shaul was medalist for the day as he fashioned a fine 73 over the par 72 course. Steve Lamphere of DVC was only one stroke behind as he fired a 74. Don Minor finished with a 77 while Dennis Gault and Al Saunders came in with 84s.

Presto Shows the new look in telephone numbers

All-numeral phone numbers are coming to Contra Costa County

The listings in the August, 1962, Contra Costa County telephone directory will have all-numeral phone numbers. Numerals are being substituted for letters in everyone's number. The numerals correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, so dialing itself will be unchanged.

The conversion to the new type of numbers is taking place gradually:

- Anyone getting telephone service in Contra Costa County for the first time, moving to a new address, or getting a new phone number, is now being given an all-numeral number.
- All other Contra Costa phones will change to the new type of numbers during the next few months.

By mid-July, everyone will have received new dial number cards for his phone and Information Operators will have the new listings. During this conversion, Information Operators may give out some Contra Costa telephone numbers with letters and others with numerals. Since there is no change in dialing, however, calls will go through dialed either way.

These new phone numbers are part of a new nation-wide numbering system called All Number Calling. It's needed to keep ahead of America's growth. Twenty years ago there were less than 23 million phones in the U.S. Right now there are more than 74 million, and by 1975 there may be more than 160 million phones. This growth is rapidly exhausting letter combinations for usable prefix names. By changing to an All-Number system, enough numbers will be available to keep up with telephone growth in Contra Costa County and the rest of the Nation.

Note: The Area Code shown on the number card above is for people calling you from outside your area.

Point Need For Geriatric Help

An immediate need for a "finer breed of individual to aid in the rehabilitation of the aging" was expressed at evaluation sessions of the new citizen-participation program in geriatricts, the Friendly Visitor Volunteer Service Monday night and Tuesday morning at the Mt. Diablo Red Cross Building.

Participating were the county's first "graduates" in Friendly Visiting, 21 men and women who have been working in the program snce last fall and who have given at least one hour a week to call on elderly persons.

The evaluation sessions were preliminary to expansion of the Friendly Visitor Service throughout Contra Costa County and to enrollment in a second course of volunteer training sessions to open April 24 in Richmond and in Walnut Creek.

The new program, one of the first in California, is a cooperative effort of four United Crusade agencies — the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County, the Contra Costa Council of Community Services, the Red Cross and the Contra Costa Mental Health Association — in combination with the county department of social service and the Centra Contra Costa Council of Churches.

MRS. JANE McClelland was recently appointed executive director, with new offices opened at 3184 Old Tunnel Road, Lafayette. The program also is a part of the Ford Foundation Project-on-Aging of the Council of Community Services, directed by Miss Gertrude Hall.

Discussions centered on the motivations of persons qualified to participate in the program., indicating that reasons varied but that the sincere desire to help was the prime requisite.

Among those who are most successful and who themselves receive the greatest benefit are men and women who miss their own parents and who feel the need of a pleasant, relaxed contact with older people, according to Mrs. McClelland.

One volunteer pointed out that he saw, during his parents' lifetime, how much visits by friends meant to them, and that he felt he was motivated by gratitude to those visitors, both friends and strangers.

VOLUNTEERS participating in the program have been Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin of Alamo; Mr. and Mrs. Florian Stark of Walnut Creek; Mrs Forrest Ashcraft, Mrs. I. F. Edmister, Mrs. William Hartman, Mrs. Willis S. Henderson, Mrs. Hugh C. Mossman, Mrs. Mabel A. King and Mrs. Leonard Weeks of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Marion Baker, Mrs. Lisle Baldwin and Mrs. A. F. Holden of Lafayette; Mrs. Gladson G. Bowman, Mrs. Kenneth Crain, Mrs. Paul Gottschall, Mrs. J. H. Hatley, Mrs. A. R. McGrath and Mrs. Raymond Murphy of Concord, and Mrs. H. O. Stewart of Danville.

Membership in the program is open to perosns over 21 who can spend a minimum of one hour a week as a regular visitor and who is able to attend three training sessions, held in Richmond and Walnut Creek.

Further information may be obtained from the Volunteer Bureau, 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek, or 3184 Old Tunnel Road, Lafayette.

Workers Ask County for Raise, Leave

County maintenance personnel have asked for a $50 per month pay raise and severance pay from sick leave benefits.

The requests were made by the Contra Costa County Employes Union. Local 302.

The union also asked for time and a half pay for overtime and an extra week's vacation for persons who have worked for more than 15 years with the county.

Local 302 president Cliff Chaney said he would present the request formally to the Civil Service Commission on April 24.

Water Bond Bids Slated For May 2

Prospective buyers for the purchase of one million dollars worth of revenue bonds may submit their bids on May 2, the Contra Costa County Water District announced at its meeting last week.

The bonds are part of the original $13,840,000 issued to buy and improve the old California Water Company in 1959. They were withheld from the market in anticipation of the time when they would be needed to provide money for capital improvements.

The sale is being handled by Stone and Youngberg, a San Francisco financial firm. Bids will be recieved at 7:30 p.m. in the district office in Pittsburg.

Frank Hanrahan of Pleasant Hill and Thomas W. Thompson of Martinez, both of whom were unopposed for reelection, took a formal oath of office at the meeting. They will serve four-year terms.

THE BOARD also appointed Hanrahan, Craig Randall and Bob Johnson to meet with a committee from the Walnut Creek City Council to discuss the matter of having several so-called "splinter groups" get their water from East Bay MUD instead of the California Water Company.

The board authorized the awarding of a $281,360 contract to the C. Norman Peterson Company of Berkeley for construction of the two million gallon Bailey Reservoir.

Other contracts were $5570 to Van Allen and Motter for water main installation in the Woodland subdivision along Ygnacio Valley Road; $47,952 to the MGM Construction Company.

Visitors From Vietnam

By JANE PUTNAM

Last July, David, age 7, was in an overcrowded, underprivileged orphanage in Saigon, capitol of Vietnam. Two years ago, Lia Ann was an unwanted, scrawny baby in a hospital in Bangkok, capitol of Siam or Thailand.

The children had one thing in common, they were deserted probably because their parents had too many mouths to feed on a salary of $20 a month. They were adopted by an American couple, the Donald G. Goslins, grantees of the United States Information Agency for the Bi-National Center.

LAST WEEK they arrived in a wonderland called Lafayette, USA. With their mother, they are staying at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hamilton, 838 Hope Lane, Lafayette. Soon they will be leaving to visit relatives in Arizona and Iowa.

If Lafayette, their first stop in America, is a far cry from Saigon and Bangkok, you'd never prove it by Lia Ann nor David. They are taking their first look at television, first taste of foods such as avocado and cottage cheese, first telephone conversation in stride—perhaps a galloping stride.

Getting acquainted with an aunt, uncle and cousins, Dianne, 12, and Larry, 13, was easy. The sparkling dark eyes of the Siamese live doll have a melting quality. Her brother, an Annamese (partly French Vietnamese), in less than a week, is the all-American boy.

THE DOORBELL rings. A Lafayette neighbor boy wants to know if David can play. Mrs. Goslin says yes, in the backyard. Their walled compound in Saigon has not prepared David to cope with the cars on Hope Lane. But it is time to "call up Popeye" so David refuses to leave the TV set. When "I yam what I yam and that's all that I yam . . ." comes on, he is hypnotized..

Lia Ann cannot sit still. She skips into the room, silver bells tinkling on her anklets and bounces onto her mother's lap. It is a Thai custom to put the bells on children from birth.

Lia Ann's long journey to Lafayette probably began five years ago. It was then that her parents were among the first chosen to go abroad under the USIA to teach English. The Goslins spent four years in Bangkok, their "first love." They have been in Saigon for nearly a year, and will return for two more.

GOSLIN remained in Saigon where he is one of the four administrators on the staff at the Vietnamese American Association. There are 4000 students enrolled, half are young adults and half from 25 to 50 years old. Their excuses for being absent for three months at a time sometimes may be for making a trip to the "deep gungle" or serving a required time in the monkhood.

"English is the coming language," Mrs. Goslin says, referring to Thailand and Vietnam. It is the language for business and for diplomacy. The purpose of the USIA in teaching English is to promote better understanding of America.

Goslin had an eight-week briefing in Washington, D.C. before they went abroad. However, they had no difficulty in adapting to the customs of the land. "If you are polite, they understand it, as in any language," Mrs. Goslin says.

Her husband's title is "director of courses and principal." He teaches Saturday. School recesses every afternoon for a two-hour siesta.

There is a posibility that the Goslins may eventually settle in Lafayette. Besides their aunt and uncle, an old schoolmate from Iowa is doing his best to persuade them to do so. Joseph Hendrickson, speech consultant and therapist for the Lafayette School District has kept in contact with Goslin since their underclassman days. Goslin will soon join his family.

It was two years ago that Mrs. Goslin went to the Bangkok hospital (they have no orphanages) to see twin boys whom a friend had told her were up for adoption. She saw Lia Ann, then six months old, took her home without any layette, and with dinner company waiting. The baby weighted 8½ pounds. In the first three days she put on 15 ounces. According to Thai law, Goslin was appointed Lia Ann's guardian. They had to advertise for the mother before Mrs. Goslin could adopt the baby.

IN SAIGON, last July, the Goslins went through a neglected orphanage in search of a baby brother for Lia Ann. They hadn't planned on a big boy. However, when Mrs. Goslin saw David she knew it was "this one."

David visited his foster parents for three months to see if they "liked each other." They became "great friends." He knew only two English words. As is the way with children, he did not talk to his new parents in his native Vietnamese. Although he now speaks English, there was never a language barrier between them. Lia Ann is bilingual. She speaks English and Thai. The latter was taught to her by the "washanah."

As to the political situation, Mrs. Goslin doesn't feel that there is any immediate danger of the American women and children would be evacuated. Since 1954, the Vietnamese have been fighting a war.

THE LAND is divided into two sectors at a line formed by the Ben Hai River. The northern part is under control of the Communist Vietminh. The southern part, where the Goslins live, is under the rule of the Bao Dai. Talk about inflation: One acre costs $50,000!

The Hamiltons' home is filled with mementos from Siam and Vitnam such as: An amber statue; an abacus, Chinese adding machine; a khan, reed instrument that "they play at night in the up country." And it is filled with something not quite so tangible. A real, wonderful, untouchable something.

Lia Ann jumps from her mother's lap to kiss her blonde cousin Dianne. And Lafayette and Bangkok do not seem so very far apart any more.

United Crusade Agencies Receive 2% Aid Boost

Each of the 36 Contra Costa County youth, health and welfare agencies sharing in the United Bay Crusade will receive an overall two per cent increase in operational budgets, beginning this month, Contra Costa Unified Crusade President Dana Murdock of Richmond announced today.

The across-the-board increase, plus special allocations to meet "critical priority needs," was made possible by the successful UBAC campaign last fall in which more than $11 million was raised in the five-county fund, Murdock said.

Murdock made public the unanimous report of the Contra Costa Budget and Admissions Committee which revealed the agencies will amount to $513,997 this year, an increase of $54,236 from 1961 allocations.

In addition, more than $200,000 will come to national agencies serving in the county—Red Cross, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Bay Area Urban League, Children's Home Society, United Seaman's Service and PSO — which are budgeted directly from UBAC.

Special commendation was given the countywide budget-study committee which prepared the allocation schedule, headed by Eugene Williams of Walnut Creek. Members of the United Bay Crusade and others, selected for their knowledge of Contra Costa community needs, were on the committee.

APPEARING in concert April 15 at Stanley School in Lafayette is Mrs. Tanya Ury, well-known local pianist. Looking on is Mrs. Blaine, a director of the Contra Costa Branch of the California Music Teachers Association, sponsor of the benefit affair. Sun photo by Jim Dodge

Tanya Ury Featured in Benefit Music Program

Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Stanley School auditorium in Lafayette, the Contra Costa Branch of the California Music Teachers' Association will present the well-known concert pianist, Tanya Ury, in its annual scholarship benefit program.

Mrs. Ury plans a very stimulating evening of works by Johann Christian Bach, Schumann, Chopin, Prokofieff and Bartok.

Money raised by this concert goes toward a scholarship given each year to a graduate of Diablo Valley College who is planning to become a teacher of music.

This year, in addition to money set aside for the scholarship fund, the Contra Costa Branch of the Music Teacher's Association is planning to make a gift to the newly founded Walnut Creek Auditorium Fund.

The chairman for this year's concert is Virginia Blair Menges of Walnut Creek. She was assisted by president, Virginia Daniels; Doris Marliave; Doris Kirby and Barbara Buck, also of Walnut Creek, as well as Alice Keller and Itala Gambino of Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Ury, a native of Germany, gave her first piano recital at the age of 13, and after winning numerous scholarships, graduated from the Leipzig University, and then studied with Edwin Fischer in Berlin.

She made her professional debut with the Leipzig Philharmonic, and played extensively in Europe before coming to the United States.

She is well known in the Bay Area for appearances with the Oakland Symphony, the San Francisco Little Symphony, the San Francisco Quartet and the Griller Quartet.

Merit badges were awarded to Wayne Abbott, Steve Bowles, Jack Bowers, Dave Denning, Carl Van Dyke, Mark Knudsen, Steve Knudsen, Stan Majka, Jr., Dwight Sigworth, Harry Sigworth, Jr., Jim Smith.

The Rotary Club award for the highest achievement since the previous court of honor was shared jointly by Steve Bowles and Carl Van Dyke.

Green bars were presented to patrol leaders Tom Mueller, Jim Smith, Wayne Abbott, Ken Sanderson and Steve Knudsen. Assistant patrol leader bars went to Cris Hammond, Stan Majka, Jr., Larry DeGrassi, Dwight Sigworth and Steve Bowles.

In closing, Scoutmaster Harry Sigworth announced that the OrLaMo District first prize ribbon for the best window display during Boy Scout Week went to troop 200.

Bid Awarded For Grayson Reservoir

Contracts for Grayson Reservoir, located off Pleasant Hill Road a half mile north of Grayson Road, were awarded last week.

Western Empire Construction Company of Walnut Creek got the job by virtue of a low bid of $207,877.24, announced the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The reservoir will store five million gallons of filtered water. It will serve residents in the area bounded by the Walnut Creek city limits on the south and Contra Costa Golf Club on the north.

Te reservoir site was preplanted 18 months ago with blue gum and eucalyptus trees, already 10 to 12 feet high. Construction is expected to take about a year, officials said.

Loan Granted For Newberry Addition

A $775,000 mortgage loan for construction of a one-story addition to the Contra Costa Shopping center on Monument Road in Pleasant Hill has been approved by Continental Assurance Company.

The new committment brings to nearly $3,500,000 the aggregate loan by the insurance company on the large new shopping center.

Family Hosts Wanted for Indian Kids

Families who want to play host to Indian children from the Fresno area for two weeks in June have only a short time left to make application.

The Indian Visitation Program, now in its eighth year in this area, is sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee. Its purpose is to allow Indian children between the ages of nine and twelve to develop friendship and better understanding through the close contact of a home environment.

To qualify as a host family, the family must have children in this same age bracket, according to Mrs. Thomas Butterfield, 261 Betty Lane, Pleasant Hill, who is the area chairman.

Dalys Have 'Peck' of a Roof Problem

Woodpeckers consider the roof of the Edward Dalys, 12 Las Armas Road, Orinda, quite a delicacy. They have consumed about $1000 worth of roofing—without even a diner's card.

The Dalys instructed their gardener, Max Meier, 1432 Chaney Road, Walnut Creek, to shoot the birds. He was to leave them on the roof to frighten the late customers away.

Mrs. W. M. Harrison, 22 Casadas Road, decided that the shoooting was hazardous when a bird dropped at the feet of a plumber coming to work at her house. Mrs. Harrison called the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Office.

The sheriff's office told the Dalys to hold fire. Mrs. Daly denied that there was any danger, according to the sheriff

Thousands Thrilled By Great 'Day at the Fair!'

It was a great "Day at the Fair" in the Broadway Shopping Center last Saturday and thousands of persons who attended are still talking about the television shows, the fashion parade and the general outdoor carnival atmosphere.

From the moment the Mt. Diablo High School Band tooted its first note until the last bit of pastry was served at the outdoor cafe, there was plenty of excitement.

The band was playing for a purpose: trying to raise the funds for a trip to the Seattle World's Fair. A couple of the spectators were more fortunate. They received expense paid trips to Seattle from the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center volunteers who operated the sidewalk cafe.

"Captain Delta," who pilots an imaginary riverboat through the shoals of Sacramento on KOVR-TV, started the major entertainment portion from a stage in front of the Lucky Store to the delight of the area's "small fry."

Mrs. June Gilmartin of Joseph Magnin's was in charge of the fashion show which not only evoked many "ahs" and "ohs" from the feminine members of the audience, but a number of whistles from male spectators.

Sixty models, provided by the therapy center, took part in the style parade which covered a two-hour period beginning at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. S. L. Sibley was chairman of the model committee.

Grand finale of the day, from an entertainment standpoint, was the selection of the semi-final winner of the KO-VR Girl contest. A half-hour telecast was transmitted concluding with the announcement of the winner from this area.

B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said the winner would compete in the semi-finals in Concord. The winner there goes to the finals to be held in Sacramento.

Spring Means Clothes; 'Broadway' Is Busy!

The advent of spring weather has thousands of women and girls swarming into the air-conditioned Broadway Shopping Center, buying Easter hats, spring dresses and accessories.

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of children in the shoe stores, and the men's stores are buzzing with activity.

Men are not waiting to buy their lightweight spring and summer suits, and the sudden arrival of warm winds has provided the final inducement!

B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "Our stores are buzzing with activity. Sportswear and swim suits are going like crazy.

"We are well stocked with the latest styles and fashions in the spring and summer lines."

"People who wait longer to get the things they need for spring are simply missing out on the April fun," Horne added.

Job Training Will be Given Some Students

A third annual Career Exploration course of the Acalanes Union High School District will be offered this summer by the five hig schools of the district.

The program gives high school students a chance to explore first-hand, without pay, the vocational fields in which they may be interested, director David Sweetman explained.

The on-the-job experience course runs from June 18 to July 27.

Limited to 50 participants, the activity is open to high school students 16 or older.

Registration is being conducted by counseling departments of the district's schools.

Broadway Business At New High

"An unprecedented volume of business is being recorded at Broadway Shopping Center," said B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Broadway is becoming the fashion center of the entire East Bay area, and a big boost came from the opening of 'The Fashion' and 'Mr. G,' both on Broadway Plaza," Horne continued.

"We predict that the fashion spotlight will shine even brighter on Broadway in future months and years.

"Today Broadway offers a tremendous selection in apparel and shoes, and shoppers will find all the well known brands and styles with which they are familiar."

Danville Contractor Builds Parking Lot

Supervisor Thomas J. Coll announced yesterday that a contract for an addition to the county car pool parking area in Martinez was awarded to George Brazil of Danville, who submitted a bid of $9,181, the lowest of five bids received.

The addition will provide for the parking of 31 county cars and will facilitate the handling of assigned cars. The increased storage space is needed because of the planned construction of the additions and alterations to the county administration building.

Nelson Heads Scout Expansion

Robert A. Nelson, Walnut Creek councilmen who has been chosen to head a committee to expand boy scouting in the Walnut Creek - Danville area, has scheduled a special dinner to launch the campaign on May 1 at Oak Grove Intermediate School.

Wendell Henry, new member, chairman of the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout council, said Nelson had been selected to head the program because of his intense interest in scouting. The group has been designated the "Together We Organize" committee.

Each potential sponsoring organization is asked to bring a committee of six adults to the dinner. Since reservations are required, any group that wishes to attend should contact the district scout executive.

Members of the "Together Committee" include Richard Jenkins, 90 Pleasant Valley Drive, Walnut Creek; Alan Goodban, 2641 Oak Road, Walnut Creek; A. J. Haun, 65 Oak Court, Danville; Robert G. Imrie, 7 Steding Court, Walnut Creek; J. H. Flesher, 3119 Wildwood Drive, Concord; and Jack H. Newton, 1746 Lemonwood Drive, Concord.

Nelson came to the Diablo Valley in 1950, when he was named coordinator of business education for the Contra Costa Junior College District at Martinez. For five years he was one of the national adult advisors for the Distributive Education Clubs of America and the Retailing Clubs, a national organization for high school and junior college students. He joined United States Steel in 1955 as sales training supervisor for Columbia-Geneva Division, and was named to his present post in 1958.

Nelson and his wife, Marion, live at 2858 San Antonio Drive, Walnut Creek. They have four children: Saundra, Leland Robert, Susan and Margaret. He is an honorary member and past president of the Kiwanis Club of Concord, a member of the American Society of Training Directors.

GOOD SCOUTS are these two men, Robert A. Nelson, Walnut Creek councilman, at left, and Allison Haun, new units chairman, as they go over plans to organize new Boy Scout troops in the Walnut Creek - Danville area.

Shell Sets Up Quarters In Area

Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, moved his drive forward this week with the appointment of campaign chairmen in Contra Costa County.

Shell pointed out that the number of Shell for Governor campaign headquarters throughout California had jumped to 68, an increase of 13 in one week.

Headquarters have been opened in two Contra Costa communities. Charles R. Crabtree and Lee Christopherson of Walnut Creek have been named co-chairmen in Walnut reek, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and Danville sections, with headquarters at 1531 Cypress Avenue, Walnut Creek, under the supervision of Mrs. Nancy Parsley.

William Selb, Lafayette insurance man, has assumed the duties of chairman of the Lafayette-Orinda area campaign

Local Student Maintains 4.0 Point Average

Julie Sommer of Lafayette, a junior majoring in English at Whitworth College in Spokane, maintained a perfect 4.0 (straight A) point average for the fall semester, it was announced this week.

Two other Lafayette students were named to the college's honor roll.

Carol Annis, a freshman, had a 3.37 average and Carol English, a freshman English major, had a 3.33 average.

To be listed on the honor roll at Whitworth, a student must maintain a 3.25 or better grade point average for the semester.

Whitworth is a coeducational college of arts and sciences affiliated with the United Presbyterian, U.S.A. There are 1600 students enrolled at the college.

Inter-Racial Council Will Hear About Possible Housing Laws

Making housing available to minority groups through legal action on the county level will be discussed at a meeting of the Catholic Inter-racial Council Wednesday at Christ the King Catholic Church, Pleasant Hill.

Dr. James Carey of Berkeley, president of the San Francisco Catholic Interracial Council, will tell about his work on the proposed housing ordinance in San Francisco and related matters.

Carey's talk will follow earlier talks by Father George Kennard of St. Alberts about possible efforts to promote communications between white and minority groups.

Kennard said that in some areas, desegregated dances dances among junior high school students have been proposed, and this might be considered in Pleasant Hill.

The Catholic Council leaders said this week that their efforts are being confined to "education" towards better relations between the races.

The local council, which is a laymen's group of more than 50 members, will elect new officers at the April 18 meeting.

Tod Lindberg of Walnut Creek is the current president.

Variety Show Will Benefit Lynn Center

The Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County is presenting a vaudeville variety stage show at Las Lomas High School gymnasium in Walnut Creek May 5, at 8 p.m.

The proceeds from this program will be used to help support the two schools sponsored by the council, Lynn pre-school in Danville, and Lynn Center in Walnut Creek, both of which are day schools for retarded children living at home.

Artists Mailed Entry Forms

Entry forms for the seventh annual Pageant of Arts were mailed this week to more than 300 artists in Contra Costa County.

Members of the Walnut Creek Arts Alliance met at the home of Mr. Fred LeClaire, 505 La Vista, Walnut Creek, to assemble the forms and prepare them for mailing.

Deadline for the return of the entries is May 5. Earl Allen, pageant director, has announced all interested artists in the county may enter.

Entry forms may be obtained quarters, the Quonset, Hut, Civic from the Pageant of Arts Headquarters, Walnut Creek; the Walnut Creek Recreation Center; most all area art and craft stores; Pillsbury Stationers or by calling Mrs. Fred LeClaire, YE 4-6423.

Ten days of arts in Walnut Creek will begin May 25 and include the Pageant of Arts-Armory Show, performing art, Junior Art Day and the Diablo Art Association Spring Show.

Three Candidates Will Enter Race For Assembly

Two Republicans will enter the race against Democratic incumbent Jerome Waldie of Antioch for the 10th Assembly District seat in the June 5 primaries.

Edward H. Winslow, well-known Pleasant Hill civic leader, originally declared his intenion to run against Waldie. After taking out nomination papers, he discovered he couldn't qualify because of a technicality.

Winslow, chairman of the board of the Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation District, was ruled ineligible because he has not been a registered Republican for the required one-year period. He plans to run as a write-in candidate.

Winslow was placed on the ballot by Republican David E. Fisher, Pleasant Hill, a real estate salesman. Fisher was chairman of the testimonial dinner given last week for Dr. Drummond McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College.

ARCTIC HARE

Water District Sets Up Subdivision Refund Plan

Directors of the Contra Costa County Water District adopted a new main extension policy for the Treated Water Division last week, providing for refunds to subdividers who install water mains that can be used to serve customers outside their tracts.

Refunds are designed to cover only the part of the water main that does not serve the tract. The money will come from a series of connection charges to be collected from all new customers.

The Contra Costa County Water District made the new policy effective immediately but ruled that anyone applying for a new service before June 30 could elect to join the system under the old policy if he wants to avoid the connection charge.

IN MOST cases he would not be eligible for any main extension refunds.

The Treated Water Division Citizens' Advisory Committee recommended approval of the new policy. Committee Chairman Craig Randall said it would assure a fairer distribution of the cost of establishing new services.

He said "new customers will pay the cost of facilities needed to serve them under the connection charge. None of the costs will be borne by present customers. The charge will apply equally to tract builders and people who want water for only one home or business.

"AT THE same time subdividers will continue to pay for extending mains to their tracts but will have a chance to get back their investment if the main can serve properties outside the tract.

"In the past a subdivider would pay for a main to bring water to his tract and then see other property owners all along his main hook on to it without paying him a cent."

Petunias Have Myriad Uses in Summer Garden

The myriad sizes, shapes and colors of the Petunia makes it one of the truly outstanding annuals for our summer garrdens. We use it for massed color in beds, for bright spots in the border, for showy edgings and for graceful cascades of bloom from plant boxes and other containers. Such versatility is unmatched by any other bedding plant.

GARDENERS WHO plant Petunias this spring will find, as usual, that the professional plantsmen have come up with their annual crop of new and exciting varieties. It is one of the seven wonders that one plant can produce so many new faces year after year.

Topping the list for 1962 are the 1962 Can Can strain of California giants. These produce the typically ruffled, outsize blooms of the type on compact little plants. Sold in mixed colors only, these mighty dwarfs put forth blooms that are 5 to 6 inches across, according to the California Association of Nurserymen.

Also new are three single multiflora Petunias and a striking double multiflora. The three former include Dawn Satin, a light salmon pink, Brass Band, an unusual yellow, and Plum Dandy, an iridescent purple. The double multiflora is Cherry Tart, which produces lovely rose and white flowers on a compact plant.

The gardener should not confine his attention only to the new introductions, however, for the cream of last year's crop and top performers from earlier years have been brought back by popular demand.

THE MEDIUM SIZED and beautifully fringed grandiflora petunias are well represented by such proven performers as the Ballet Improved strain, by the striped, red and white Calypso, in Blue Lustre, by the white La Paloma and many others. Returning multifloras include the outstanding, pink and red Sugar Plum, the beautiful Coral Satin, the mixed Pow Wow strain and others.

Petunias have the reputation of doing well whatever kind of care they get. This is true to an extent, but don't try them too far, for their beauty is always enhanced by a little attention. Give them a good rich soil, plenty of water and enough pinching to encourage bushy growth. They will give you that much more in the matter of bloom.

April Showers Bring Flowers To Gardeners

As everyone knows, "April showers bring May flowers." So gardeners are advised by the California Association of Nurserymen to do the following this week:

1. Begonia seedlings may be planted now. Stake the tender young plants and feed them twice monthly with liquid fish.

2. Caterpillars often show up on Wisteria and on a few other favorites this time of year. Spray them before they get started. Ask your nurseryman what to use.

3. Plant annuals for late spring and summer bloom.

4. Contained grown Fuchsias sholud be fed and watered more frequently than those in the ground.

April Reminders For Rosarians

When April comes to California, it's a cinch that the first roses can't be far behind. Indeed, in some favored gardens, they may already have bloomed. Having reached this plateau, however, let's not sit back and forget that continued bloom from now to late fall only comes from the proper care.

The California Association of Nurserymen's advice for rosarians this month should set a pattern for the months to come water, feed and spray.

AS EVER in California, water has to be ranked as the most important single aid to the happiness of a rose. April showers often supply it in sufficient quantity, but stand ready with the hose if mother nature fails to come through. Make a basin around each bush and fill it slowly.

As for feeding the next most important need, let a C.A.N. nurseryman suggest the proper food. Special rose foods are available that promote good growth and sturdy canes. Fertilizer should be scratched into the soil around each plant but never right next to the trunk. The exceptions to this are the soluble fertilizers which will not burn plants.

Spraying is almost always necessary to control such pests as aphids and thrips and fungus diseases such as mildew. However, the degrees of such trouble will vary from garden to garden, so let your nurseryman help you to set up a spray schedule since he's knowledgeable about such needs in your neighborhood.

THE LAST C.A.N. recommendation is to mulch roses, starting right now.

Church Group Plans Luncheon

The Women's Association of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Pleasant Hill will feature at its regular monthly meeting, April 11 at 12 noon, a salad bar luncheon.

The program will be a panel discussion on "Youth in a Troubled World." Mrs. Delores Totman will lead the worship.

All women are cordially invited to attend. Child care is provided at the church.

Teachers Hold a Music Workshop

A student workshop of the Music Teachers' Association was held last Sunday afternoon at Stanley School in Lafayette.

The same group held a panel discussion Wednesday morning on the Music of the Modern Period in Pleasant Hill.

Labor Council and Judges Endorse County Park Plan

Endorsement of the county's proposed $7.5 million bond proposal for parks has been given this past week by the Contra Costa Central Labor Council and the seven Superior Court judges of the county.

News of the labor endorsement was received by the board of supervisors in the form of a letter from the council secretary-treasurer, Hugh Caudel. The group represents the county's AFL-CIO union locals.

A smilar letter of approval came from the jurists, signed by Judges Homer W. Patterson, Wakefield Taylor, Hugh Donovan, Thomas F. Fraga, Norman Gregg, S. C. Masterson and Martin E. Rothenberg.

ENDORSEMENTS were also received from the Contra Costa Mayors' Conference, several PTA groups and improvement associations.

Directors of hte County Taxpayers' Association and the Contra Costa Development Association have voted unanimously to support the bond issue.

The bond proposal, which requires a two-thirds vote for approval, will be on the June 5 primary election ballot.
